HE HAS RESIGNED

SECRETARY GAGE SENDS IN HIS LETTER.

THE PRESIDENT ACCEPTS IT

HIGH TRIBUTE TO RETIRING POSTMASTER GENERAL.

CONGRESS IS IN SESSION

SHORT SESSION HELD IN HOUSE AND SENATE.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The following correspondence was made public at the white house today:

"Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., Dec. 19, 1901.—The President: I respectfully submit this as my resignation of the high office of secretary of the treasury, the same to take effect upon the appointment of my successor.

"In this step toward separation from your executive staff permit me to thank you for the confidence bestowed upon me, and for the kindness and courtesy of which I have been the recipient at your hands.

"With most earnest desires for the highest success of your administration, I remain,

"Sincerely yours,

"Lyman J. Gage."

"White House, Washington, Jan. 4, 1902.—My Dear Mr. Secretary: In accepting your resignation I wish to express my great regret that you feel it necessary to leave the cabinet and my hearty thanks for the invaluable services you have rendered. Your service to the nation has been rendered at the cost of loss to you—heavy loss, from a material standpoint, as must ever be the case with a man like you who deliberately abandons the comparative ease and the high pecuniary rewards of a large private business for the exhausting work of the position you have so honorably filled during the last five years.

"With all good wishes, believe me,

"Most sincerely yours,

"Theodore Roosevelt.

"To Hon. Lyman J. Gage."

'White House, Washington, Jan. 4, 1902.—My Dear Mr. Postmaster General: It is with the most genuine regret that I accept your resignation—after having vainly tried to prevent your sending it. During our four months' close service together I have grown not only to value most highly your trained ability and unswerving rectitude of thought and purpose as a public man, but also to prize your personal friendship. I thank you for the great services you have rendered in your office; I deeply regret that we are no longer to serve side by side, and I earnestly wish you well in the future and bid you God-speed in your new duties—for wherever you may be, the weight of your influence is sure to be potent on the side of clean and honest government.

'Faithfully yours,

"Theodore Roosevelt.

"To Postmaster General Smith."

The text of the letter of Postmaster General Smith resigning his office also was made public. This was published at the time Mr. Smith resigned.

The oath was administered to Messrs. Smith, of Iowa, and Weeks, of Michigan, who had not heretofore appeared at this session.

No business was transacted. Mr. Loudenslager, of New Jersey, immediately announced the death of Senator Sewell. In doing so he paid a warm and feeling tribute to the "citizen, soldier and statesman," whose death, he said, "was the greatest loss the state of New Jersey ever suffered." He offered the customary resolutions which were adopted and as a further mark of respect the house, at 12:10 p. m., adjourned.

In his invocation, at the opening of the session, the chaplain, Rev. Dr. Wm. Milburn, made touching reference to the death of Senator Sewell. He referred also to the disability of Senator Berry, of Arkansas, and prayed that he might be able to return to his duty in the senate.

Mr. Kean, of New Jersey, formally announced to the senate the death of Mr. Sewell and offered the customary resolutions expressive of the sorrow of the senate and providing for an immediate adjournment in respect to his memory. As a mark of respect to his memory the senate adjourned at 12:07 p. m., immediately upon the adoption of the resolutions.

The seat formerly occupied by Senator Sewell has been assigned to Senator Depew, of New York.

BIG LIEN ON ELECTRIC LINE

EVERETT-MOORE SYNDICATE IS BROUGHT TO COURT.

Suit Is for More Than a Quarter of Million Dollars for Materials and Labor.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6.—William B. Strang, of New York, has filed in the office of the register of deeds a lien against the Erie Construction company of New Jersey, now the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line road, for $258,987.19 for labor and materials furnished during the period between May 1, 1901, and December 31, 1901. The road is owned by the Everett-Moore syndicate of Cleveland. The lien covers the rails, ties, fence posts, wires, bridges, roadbed, buildings, etc., from a point on Summit street, Toledo, to where the connection is made with the Wyandotte and Trenton lines at Trenton. The lien is the largest ever handled in the office of the Wayne county register of deeds.

In spite of repeated contradictions from Cleveland, Clarence A. Black, of this city, says that the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line road, of which he was formerly principal owner, was purchased from the Everett-Moore syndicate together with the Monroe and Toledo road by the directors of the Detroit United Railway.

PREPARING A STATEMENT.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 6.—Chairman Newcomb, of the committee of bankers in charge of the affairs of the Everett-Moore syndicate, said today that it would probably be two weeks before a detailed statement could be prepared showing the actual financial condition of all the various properties controlled by the syndicate. "The trial balance reports for November," said Mr. Newcomb, "indicate that practically all the urban and interurban electric railways of the syndicate are money-makers."

KILLED THE GIRL HE LOVED

ALSO DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED HIS RIVAL.

Then Homer Neff, Prominent Citizen of West Union, Iowa, Blew Out His Own Brains.

West Union, Iowa, Jan. 6.—Homer M. Neff, county surveyor and former county clerk, today shot and killed Miss Rose Falls, wounded Emmet Sullivan, his rival, and then killed himself. The deed was committed at a hotel. Sullivan was calling upon the girl when Neff suddenly appeared in the doorway and fired five shots in rapid succession. Four of the shots took effect—two entered the girl's head and Sullivan was struck in the face. He will recover. Neff then went to his room, locked the door and reloading the revolver, shot himself in the temple, death being instantaneous. Neff has lived here the greater part of his life. He was about 45 years old. He bore an excellent reputation.

THREE CHILDREN ROASTED.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 6.—Three negro children were burned to death in the suburbs of Springfield today. Their mother, a cook, locked them in a room, where a fire was burning in the stove and went to her work.

The Cheerful Aid society will meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Eckart, 609 West Main street.

WOULD TAX THEM

GOVERNOR NASH FAVORS A CORPORATION TAX.

OHIO EXECUTIVE'S MESSAGE

HE ASKS THAT CORPORATION LAWS BE AMENDED.

PUBLICITY IS MUCH NEEDED

BUCKEYE STATE LEGISLATURE IS ORGANIZED.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The Ohio legislature convened at 10 a. m. today in biennial session. Both branches elected the officers nominated at the republican caucuses last Saturday evening. The forenoon was spent in the usual routine of drawing seats, taking the oath of office, etc. The quiet proceedings in balloting for presiding officers, clerks and sergeant-at-arms, etc., was in marked contrast from the exciting scenes of the past week in the contest between the Foraker and the Hanna republicans for the control of the organization of both branches of the general assembly. Notwithstanding the talk of fusion with the minorities, the Foraker candidates in the senate and the Hanna candidates in the house were elected with their respective full party votes and there was no indication of bolting or even of disaffection.

At noon the annual message of Governor Nash was read in both the senate and the house. It was noted for its recommendations of a new system of taxation under which all taxes for state purposes are to be raised from corporations, franchises, the liquor traffic, etc., and all direct taxation for county, municipal or other purposes are to be left to the counties. It is a system of home rule in local taxes. The governor had this further to say about corporations:

"During the last two years much has been said upon the question as to how corporations should be regulated and as to how evils which arise from the misuse of corporate franchises may be minimized, or entirely overcome. Many have thought that publicity is the only sure remedy.

"Because they are created by the state, and possess cetificates bearing the impress of her seal, people are led to believe that they are safer to do business with and are more entitled to credit than are private partnerships and individuals. In very many cases they are less worthy of confidence. They are authorized by the state to do business before one dollar of capital stock has been paid. This is an unfortunate condition of affairs. The state, before she gives these corporations her approval and permits them to do business, ought to require that all their capital stock be paid in money and invested in the business they propose to transact. She ought to make sure of this fact by a report made to some competent officer. We should go further and require these companies to make annual reports, to be filed with and inspected by this officer. This report should show, among other things, how much of the capital stock has been paid, how the money is invested, what the assets are, the amount of liabilities and the names of the stockholders. In fact, there should be such a record of every corporation, that the people may know at all times whether it is worthy of credit and confidence. I believe with some such regulations Ohio corporations would be placed upon a solid financial basis.

"The publicity which would be given by such action could not, by any possibility, injure a really worthy and sound corporation. It would protect the public against unworthy and failing corporations. As matters now stand the secretary of state knows nothing about a corporation after it leaves his office with a charter from the state. He cannot even tell how many of the 40,000 or more corporations chartered by the state during the last fifty years are now dead nor how many are still living. The state creates the thing, authorizes it to do business, sends it out in the cold, and knows nothing more about it forever. It is high time that a change should be made."

BURNED BY INCENDIARIES.

Dr. C. E. Barnett returned this morning from Paulette, Miss., where he has been hunting for the past week. Jack Duke, who was to have accompanied him to this city to enter the medical college, was unable to come, but will be here the latter part of the week. A department store belonging to Mr. Duke's father was robbed last week, and the thieves, in order to cover up their trail, burned the building, entailing a heavy loss on Mr. Duke, sr. His son remained at home pending an investigation of the fire and some sensational developments are expected.

MAKES ASSAULT TREASON.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—In the assembly today a bill was introduced amending the penal code so as to make an attempt on the life of the president of the United States, or on that of the governor of New York, treason.

JAMES E. LINDSEY KILLED

FELL FROM HIS ENGINE AT MORTIMER SUNDAY.

James E. Lindsey, one of the best known and most popular engineers in the employ of the Nickel Plate, was instantly killed at Mortimer, a station about seventy-nine miles east of this city, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The train of which Mr. Lindsey was the engineer did not come to a full stop at Mortimer, merely slowing up as it passed the depot, and the dead body of the engineer was found lying by the side of the track after it had passed. Nobody saw the accident and just how it happened will probably never be known. Mr. Lindsey, on previous trips, had jumped off his engine at the telegraph office, received his instructions from the operator, climbed aboard the caboose and thence passed to the engine over the top of the train. It is presumed that this was his purpose yesterday, but in alighting from his engine he lost this hold and fell to the ground.

As stated life was extinct when the body was found and it was taken into the telegraph office and a short time afterwards placed upon passenger train No. 1 and brought to this city, arriving here at noon. The remains were taken to Bloom's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial and at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon they were removed to the late home of the deceased, No. 74 West Third street. The body was not badly mutilated. There was an ugly cut on the side of the head, evidently made by being struck by some part of the engine or a car, and the right arm was crushed by the car wheels passing over it. The neck was also broken and this was the cause of death.

The deceased leaves a wife and a daughter, the latter 12 years old, and the scene at the home when the sad news was carried there was heartrending. Both the bereaved wife and daughter were prostrated for awhile by the shock, though they are bearing up bravely under the terrible affliction today. A brother and two sisters also survive the deceased. These relatives reside in different places and an effort is being made to reach them with a telegram today.

Engineer Lindsey was 37 years old. He was born and educated at Wellsville, O., learning the boiler trade in the Pennsylvania shops in that city after he had completed his school term. He came to Fort Wayne in 1885 and took a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate, working in that capacity four years. In 1889 Mr. Lindsey was promoted to engineer and for three years he had charge of a switch engine in the company's yards at Stony Island. In 1892 he was transferred to the road service and shortly afterwards moved his family to this city, where they have resided ever since. Mr. Lindsey belonged to Colfax lodge, No. 198, I. O. O. F., of Grand Crossing, of which he was a charter member. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias and of Fort Wayne Division No. 12, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He was especially interested in the brotherhood and never passed an opportunity to attend the meetings. Each of the orders mentioned will turn out to the funeral, but no definite announcement can be made today.

No railway man enjoyed the good will of his associates and acquaintances to a greater degree than Jimmie Lindsey. He was always in a good humor, was generous almost to a fault and had a most entertaining way about him that made him the center of any group of which he might be a part.

The funeral services will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Breckenridge will officiate.

HE LOSES AGAIN

SUPREME COURT DECIDES IN CAPTAIN CARTER'S CASE.

HABEAS CORPUS IS DENIED

CHIEF JUSTICE FULLER DELIVERS OPINION.

RULINGS IN OTHER CASES

KENTUCKY RAILROAD LAW IS UPHELD.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The United States supreme court today refused to interfere in the case of Captain Oberlin M. Carter. The decision was rendered in the proceedings instituted by Captain Carter for the purpose of securing a writ of habeas corpus that would release him from prison at Leavenworth, Kas. The case originated in the United States circuit court for the district of Kansas, by which the petition for a writ was denied. Today's opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Fuller and affirmed the opinion of the circuit court.

GREENE AND GAYNOR CASES.

The supreme court today also affirmed the decision of the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York in the case of Benjamin Greene, John A. Gaynor, William T. Gaynor and Edward H. Gaynor. Greene and the Gaynors are charged with being implicated with Captain O. M. Carter, now serving a term in the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kas., on the charge of defrauding the government of a large sum of money while superintending public works at Savannah, Ga. Greene and the Gaynors have sought by habeas corpus proceedings in New York to avoid being sent to Georgia for trial. The New York court refused to grant the writ and the opinion today confirms that verdict. The opinion was delivered by Justice Peckham.

STATE LAW IS VALID.

The supreme court today rendered an opinion holding as valid the state constitution of Kentucky concerning long and short hauls by railroad companies and statutes enacted under that provision of the constitution. The case on which the decision was rendered was a proceeding against the Louisville and Nashville railroad company, which company was indicted under the law upon the charge of making a greater charge for a short than for a long haul and a fine assessed. The verdict of the lower Kentucky state courts was favorable to the state law and constitution and this finding was affirmed by the state court of appeals. Today's opinion was delivered by Justice Shiras and affirmed the opinion of the Kentucky court.

OTHER DECISIONS.

Justice Brown, of the supreme court, today delivered the opinion of that court in the case of Leo Alexandroff, the Russian subject who is under apprehension in Philadelphia on the charge of being a deserter from the Russian cruiser Variag, holding that Alexandroff should be restored to the Russian government.

The supreme court today rendered an opinion in the case of the McKinley Creek Mining company vs. the Alaskan Mining company, involving the title to certain mining claims in the territory of Alaska. The contention was made in the case that the Alaska company had no right to protection under the mining laws of the United States, not being a citizen of the United States. The court did not sustain this contention and affirmed the verdict of the district court of Alaska.

The supreme court today in an opinion handed down by Chief Justice Fuller, reversed the findings of the court below in the various railroad cases growing out of the Kentucky statutes empowering the railroad commission of that state to fix rates. The suits were in the nature of an injunction and were instituted by the railroads of the state to prohibit the commission from proceeding under the law. The United States supreme court in its decision today did not go into the merits of the law, but simply reversed the previous decision on the ground that the injunction proceedings were premature. The cases were all sent back to the lower court to be dismissed in accordance with this decision.

DETAILS OF THE MATCH.

New York, Jan. 6.—The details of the match between Jeffries and Sharkey have been finally determined upon at a meeting between Managers Kennedy and Delaney and Sharkey, who was represented by Alvie King. The men agree to fight for 62½ per cent. of the gross receipts, the winner to take 75 and the loser 25 per cent. The fight will take place on some date between March 28 and April 5, to be decided upon later. The scene of battle will be the Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, under the auspices of the Yosemite Athletic club, of that city. Champion Jeffries, Sharkey and the Yosemite club management have agreed to post $2,500 forfeit each with Harry Corbett as final stakeholder. The principals will go into active training at once.

AFTER FIGHT CLUBS.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Attorney General Sheets has brought legal proceedings against the Business Men's Athletic club, of Findlay; the Deacon Gymnastic club, of Dayton; the Phoenix Athletic club, of Cincinnati, and the Abbey Athletic club, of Cincinnati, all on the ground that they are aiding and abetting prize fights.

KILLED WIFE'S PARAMOUR

MICHIGAN MAN USES A GUN WITH DEADLY EFFECT.

Went With Sheriff to Room Where the Couple Were Ensconced and Opened Fire.

Adrian, Mich., Jan. 6.—James Hooker was shot three times late last night by Bert Farrington, of Milan, and so badly wounded that he died today. Mrs. Farrington, who had not lived with her husband for a number of months, was visiting at Hooker's house. Farrington came here from Milan last night and went to the sheriff and asked help to secure evidence of his wife's infidelity for the purpose of securing a divorce. Accompanied by Sheriff Shepherd and a policeman, Ferrington went to the Hooker house about midnight. The party secured admission and went immediately to Hooker's bed room. A match was struck and Farrington opened fire over the sheriff's shoulder as soon as he saw the couple in there together. He fired five shots before the officers could overpower him and three took effect in Hooker's body. The woman was uninjured. Farrington is under arrest.

THE GIRL WAS MURDERED.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—A body, said to be that of Carrie Larson, and which had a weight around its neck, was taken from the river here today. Louis Thomas, cook of the steamer Oscar, and Robert Reisseck, who also worked on the boat, were placed under arrest following the discovery. The body was identified as that of Carrie Larson, aged 22 years, whom Thomas is alleged to have secured from an employment agency New Year's day to assist him in the cook's galley. According to Reisseck, Thomas and the woman quarreled and the latter was knocked unconscious. Reisseck said the cook compelled him to assist in fastening a weight to the woman and in throwing her overboard. Thomas, the police say, denies the accusation.

Guy Emrick, who has been spending his vacation in the city, returned to Indianapolis today to resume his studies in dentistry. Mr. Emrick will graduate in May.

SENT FOR SCHLEY

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH SANTIAGO HERO.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

ADMIRAL SCHLEY RETICENT AS TO CONVERSATION.

RAYNER CALLS ON FRIENDS

SCHLEY'S COUNSEL LEARNS HOUSE SENTIMENT.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Admiral Schley was with President Roosevelt about three-quarters of an hour today. The president sent for the admiral to come to the white house. At the conclusion of the conference Admiral Schley refused to discuss the object of his visit.

RAYNOR SEES FRIEND.

Hon. Isador Raynor, the counsel for Admiral Schley before the court of inquiry, spent some time on the floor of the house of representatives today. He had been at the supreme court and later visited the house, where he served as a member for some years. Mr. Raynor joined Representative Cummings, of New York, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, and learned from him the general situation of affairs concerning the many bills proposed in the Schley case. Mr. Raynor said later that his visit was without special bearing on the admiral's case, although being among old friends, he had taken occasion to learn the general condition of affairs. In this connection it is understood that the friends of Admiral Schley have expressed approval of the bill which has been introduced making the judgment of Admiral Dewey the judgment of congress. However, the informal talks today led to the conclusion that a bill of this character was not likely to be reported from the naval committee and that if action was to be taken it must be on one of the various other plans pending.

WOULD TAX THEM

GOVERNOR NASH FAVORS A CORPORATION TAX.

OHIO EXECUTIVE'S MESSAGE

HE ASKS THAT CORPORATION LAWS BE AMENDED.

PUBLICITY IS MUCH NEEDED

BUCKEYE STATE LEGISLATURE IS ORGANIZED.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The Ohio legislature convened at 10 a. m. today in biennial session. Both branches elected the officers nominated at the republican caucuses last Saturday evening. The forenoon was spent in the usual routine of drawing seats, taking the oath of office, etc. The quiet proceedings in balloting for presiding officers, clerks and sergeant-at-arms, etc., was in marked contrast from the exciting scenes of the past week in the contest between the Foraker and the Hanna republicans for the control of the organization of both branches of the general assembly. Notwithstanding the talk of fusion with the minorities, the Foraker candidates in the senate and the Hanna candidates in the house were elected with their respective full party votes and there was no indication of bolting or even of disaffection.

At noon the annual message of Governor Nash was read in both the senate and the house. It was noted for its recommendations of a new system of taxation under which all taxes for state purposes are to be raised from corporations, franchises, the liquor traffic, etc., and all direct taxation for county, municipal or other purposes are to be left to the counties. It is a system of home rule in local taxes. The governor had this further to say about corporations:

"During the last two years much has been said upon the question as to how corporations should be regulated and as to how evils which arise from the misuse of corporate franchises may be minimized, or entirely overcome. Many have thought that publicity is the only sure remedy.

"Because they are created by the state, and possess cetificates bearing the impress of her seal, people are led to believe that they are safer to do business with and are more entitled to credit than are private partnerships and individuals. In very many cases they are less worthy of confidence. They are authorized by the state to do business before one dollar of capital stock has been paid. This is an unfortunate condition of affairs. The state, before she gives these corporations her approval and permits them to do business, ought to require that all their capital stock be paid in money and invested in the business they propose to transact. She ought to make sure of this fact by a report made to some competent officer. We should go further and require these companies to make annual reports, to be filed with and inspected by this officer. This report should show, among other things, how much of the capital stock has been paid, how the money is invested, what the assets are, the amount of liabilities and the names of the stockholders. In fact, there should be such a record of every corporation, that the people may know at all times whether it is worthy of credit and confidence. I believe with some such regulations Ohio corporations would be placed upon a solid financial basis.

"The publicity which would be given by such action could not, by any possibility, injure a really worthy and sound corporation. It would protect the public against unworthy and failing corporations. As matters now stand the secretary of state knows nothing about a corporation after it leaves his office with a charter from the state. He cannot even tell how many of the 40,000 or more corporations chartered by the state during the last fifty years are now dead nor how many are still living. The state creates the thing, authorizes it to do business, sends it out in the cold, and knows nothing more about it forever. It is high time that a change should be made."

BURNED BY INCENDIARIES.

Dr. C. E. Barnett returned this morning from Paulette, Miss., where he has been hunting for the past week. Jack Duke, who was to have accompanied him to this city to enter the medical college, was unable to come, but will be here the latter part of the week. A department store belonging to Mr. Duke's father was robbed last week, and the thieves, in order to cover up their trail, burned the building, entailing a heavy loss on Mr. Duke, sr. His son remained at home pending an investigation of the fire and some sensational developments are expected.

MAKES ASSAULT TREASON.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—In the assembly today a bill was introduced amending the penal code so as to make an attempt on the life of the president of the United States, or on that of the governor of New York, treason.

JAMES E. LINDSEY KILLED

FELL FROM HIS ENGINE AT MORTIMER SUNDAY.

James E. Lindsey, one of the best known and most popular engineers in the employ of the Nickel Plate, was instantly killed at Mortimer, a station about seventy-nine miles east of this city, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The train of which Mr. Lindsey was the engineer did not come to a full stop at Mortimer, merely slowing up as it passed the depot, and the dead body of the engineer was found lying by the side of the track after it had passed. Nobody saw the accident and just how it happened will probably never be known. Mr. Lindsey, on previous trips, had jumped off his engine at the telegraph office, received his instructions from the operator, climbed aboard the caboose and thence passed to the engine over the top of the train. It is presumed that this was his purpose yesterday, but in alighting from his engine he lost his hold and fell to the ground.

As stated life was extinct when the body was found and it was taken into the telegraph office and a short time afterwards placed upon passenger train No. 1 and brought to this city, arriving here at noon. The remains were taken to Bloom's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial and at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon they were removed to the late home of the deceased, No. 74 West Third street. The body was not badly mutilated. There was an ugly cut on the side of the head, evidently made by being struck by some part of the engine or a car, and the right arm was crushed by the car wheels passing over it. The neck was also broken and this was the cause of death.

The deceased leaves a wife and a daughter, the latter 12 years old, and the scene at the home when the sad news was carried there was heartrending. Both the bereaved wife and daughter were prostrated for awhile by the shock, though they are bearing up bravely under the terrible affliction today. A brother and two sisters also survive the deceased. These relatives reside in different places and an effort is being made to reach them with a telegram today.

Engineer Lindsey was 37 years old. He was born and educated at Wellsville, O., learning the boiler trade in the Pennsylvania shops in that city after he had completed his school term. He came to Fort Wayne in 1885 and took a position as fireman on the Nickel Plate, working in that capacity four years. In 1889 Mr. Lindsey was promoted to engineer and for three years he had charge of a switch engine in the company's yards at Stony Island. In 1892 he was transferred to the road service and shortly afterwards moved his family to this city, where they have resided ever since. Mr. Lindsey belonged to Colfax lodge, No. 198, I. O. O. F., of Grand Crossing, of which he was a charter member. He was also a member of the Knights of Pythias and of Fort Wayne Division No. 12, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He was especially interested in the brotherhood and never passed an opportunity to attend the meetings. Each of the orders mentioned will turn out to the funeral, but no definite announcement can be made today.

No railway man enjoyed the good will of his associates and acquaintances to a greater degree than Jimmie Lindsey. He was always in a good humor, was generous almost to a fault and had a most entertaining way about him that made him the center of any group of which he might be a part.

The funeral services will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Breckenridge will officiate.

HE LOSES AGAIN

SUPREME COURT DECIDES IN CAPTAIN CARTER'S CASE.

CHIEF JUSTICE FULLER DELIVERS OPINION.

KENTUCKY RAILROAD LAW IS UPHELD.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The United States supreme court today refused to interfere in the case of Captain Oberlin M. Carter. The decision was rendered in the proceedings instituted by Captain Carter for the purpose of securing a writ of habeas corpus that would release him from prison at Leavenworth, Kas. The case originated in the United States circuit court for the district of Kansas, by which the petition for a writ was denied. Today's opinion was delivered by Chief Justice Fuller and affirmed the opinion of the circuit court.

GREENE AND GAYNOR CASES.

The supreme court today also affirmed the decision of the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York in the case of Benjamin Greene, John A. Gaynor, William T. Gaynor and Edward H. Gaynor. Greene and the Gaynors are charged with being implicated with Captain O. M. Carter, now serving a term in the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kas., on the charge of defrauding the government of a large sum of money while superintending public works at Savannah, Ga. Greene and the Gaynors have sought by habeas corpus proceedings in New York to avoid being sent to Georgia for trial. The New York court refused to grant the writ and the opinion today confirms that verdict. The opinion was delivered by Justice Peckham.

STATE LAW IS VALID.

The supreme court today rendered an opinion holding as valid the state constitution of Kentucky concerning long and short hauls by railroad companies and statutes enacted under that provision of the constitution. The case on which the decision was rendered was a proceeding against the Louisville and Nashville railroad company, which company was indicted under the law upon the charge of making a greater charge for a short than for a long haul and a fine assessed. The verdict of the lower Kentucky state courts was favorable to the state law and constitution and this finding was affirmed by the state court of appeals. Today's opinion was delivered by Justice Shiras and affirmed the opinion of the Kentucky court.

OTHER DECISIONS.

Justice Brown, of the supreme court, today delivered the opinion of that court in the case of Leo Alexandroff, the Russian subject who is under apprehension in Philadelphia on the charge of being a deserter from the Russian cruiser Variag, holding that Alexandroff should be restored to the Russian government.

The supreme court today rendered an opinion in the case of the McKinley Creek Mining company vs. the Alaskan Mining company, involving the title to certain mining claims in the territory of Alaska. The contention was made in the case that the Alaska company had no right to protection under the mining laws of the United States, not being a citizen of the United States. The court did not sustain this contention and affirmed the verdict of the district court of Alaska.

The supreme court today in an opinion handed down by Chief Justice Fuller, reversed the findings of the court below in the various railroad cases growing out of the Kentucky statutes empowering the railroad commission of that state to fix rates. The suits were in the nature of an injunction and were instituted by the railroads of the state to prohibit the commission from proceeding under the law. The United States supreme court in its decision today did not go into the merits of the law, but simply reversed the previous decision on the ground that the injunction proceedings were premature. The cases were all sent back to the lower court to be dismissed in accordance with this decision.

Went With Sheriff to Room Where the Couple Were Ensconced and Opened Fire.

Adrian, Mich., Jan. 6.—James Hooker was shot three times late last night by Bert Farrington, of Milan, and so badly wounded that he died today. Mrs. Farrington, who had not lived with her husband for a number of months, was visiting at Hooker's house. Farrington came here from Milan last night and went to the sheriff and asked help to secure evidence of his wife's infidelity for the purpose of securing a divorce. Accompanied by Sheriff Shepherd and a policeman, Farrington went to the Hooker house about midnight. The party secured admission and went immediately to Hooker's bed room. A match was struck and Farrington opened fire over the sheriff's shoulder as soon as he saw the couple in there together. He fired five shots before the officers could overpower him and three took effect in Hooker's body. The woman was uninjured. Farrington is under arrest.

THE GIRL WAS MURDERED.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—A body, said to be that of Carrie Larson, and which had a weight around its neck, was taken from the river here today. Louis Thomas, cook of the steamer Oscar, and Robert Reisseck, who also worked on the boat, were placed under arrest following the discovery. The body was identified as that of Carrie Larson, aged 22 years, whom Thomas is alleged to have secured from an employment agency New Year's day to assist him in the cook's galley. According to Reisseck, Thomas and the woman quarreled and the latter was knocked unconscious. Reisseck said the cook compelled him to assist in fastening a weight to the woman and in throwing her overboard. Thomas, the police say, denies the accusation.

Guy Emrick, who has been spending his vacation in the city, returned to Indianapolis today to resume his studies in dentistry. Mr. Emrick will graduate in May.

SENT FOR SCHLEY

PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH SANTIAGO HERO.

SCHLEY'S COUNSEL LEARNS HOUSE SENTIMENT.

Washington, Dec. 6.—Admiral Schley was with President Roosevelt about three-quarters of an hour today. The president sent for the admiral to come to the white house. At the conclusion of the conference Admiral Schley refused to discuss the object of his visit.

RAYNOR SEES FRIEND.

Hon. Isidor Raynor, the counsel for Admiral Schley before the court of inquiry, spent some time on the floor of the house of representatives today. He had been at the supreme court and later visited the house, where he served as a member for some years. Mr. Raynor joined Representative Cummings, of New York, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, and learned from him the general situation of affairs concerning the many bills proposed in the Schley case. Mr. Raynor said later that his visit was without special bearing on the admiral's case, although being among old friends, he had taken occasion to learn the general condition of affairs. In this connection it is understood that the friends of Admiral Schley have expressed approval of the bill which has been introduced making the judgment of Admiral Dewey the judgment of congress. However, the informal talks today led to the conclusion that a bill of this character was not likely to be reported from the naval committee and that if action was to be taken it must be on one of the various other plans pending.

EDGES LIBERTY

NO MORE TRIBUTE TO BE PAID IN NEW YORK.

MAYOR LOW'S FIRST MESSAGE

DECLARES THE EXTORTION HAS CEASED.

RICH AND POOR ARE ALIKE

NOT ONE CENT CAN BE TAKEN FOR PROTECTION.

New York, Jan. 6.—Mayor Low sent his first message to the board of aldermen today. It was brief, and the only subject treated of was blackmail in the civil administration, in the stamping out of which he said he desired the co-operation of the people of the city.

"If during the next two years," the message says, "any citizen or any employe of the city pays money illegitimately, either to avoid injury or inconvenience, or to secure his rights, he will do it because he wants to and not because he must. No one, from the largest corporation to the poorest bootblack, need pay one dime for protection from harm, or to secure just treatment at the hands of the city government. No laborer, or other employe, need part with one cent of his salary to any one, either in or out of the city government. Any one asked to make an improper payment for any purpose has only to report the fact to the mayor to be sure of protection and redress. With the co-operation of the citizens and of the city employes, the whole foul system can be broken up."

She became alarmed and took refuge with her three children in the house of a relative and this morning filed her application. Lowrey is a wagonmaker and is well known in New Haven.

HIS DEATH WAS VERY SUDDEN

VICTOR CAVALIER SUCCUMBS TO APOPLEXY.

Was a Widely Known Resident of Arcola—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

Victor Cavalier, one of the most widely known residents of Allen county, prominent and highly respected, died suddenly at his home in Arcola at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Mr. Cavalier had been apparently in his usual good health during the day, and after supper was seated in his chair when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy. Death ensued a few moments later.

Mr. Cavalier was born in Loraine, France, 67 years ago, and came with his parents to Allen county when a boy of eight years. The family settled in Arcola, where Mr. Cavalier grew to manhood. He engaged in mercantile pursuits and was uniformly successful. Under the first Cleveland administration he was postmaster at Arcola, but a few years ago disposed of his business interests and retired to his magnificent farm just south of that village.

He was united in marriage in 1857 to Marie Manier, daughter of parents who had journeyed from sunny France with those of Mr. Cavalier and located in Allen county near them. The surviving children are Mrs. Mary Rockhill, Mrs. Louise Hagan, Mrs. Elizabeth Ross and Mrs. Josephine Allen, of this city, the Misses Rose, Maggie and Sarah Cavalier, of Arcola, and John Cavalier, employed in the Fort Wayne offices of the Pennsylvania company.

Politically Mr. Cavalier was a democrat, and during his entire life he was prominent in every movement which had for its end the betterment of citizenship. He was honest, courageous and loyal, and enjoyed the esteem and respect of all who knew him. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence and at 9:30 from St. Patrick's Catholic church in Arcola.

BRING DAWSEY INTO COURT

WILL ENTER PLEA IN CIRCUIT COURT TOMORROW.

Superior Court Term Ends Today—Commissioners Take Up License Matters—Other Notes.

Prosecutor Emrick stated this afternoon that Frederick Dawsey would be brought into the circuit court tomorrow to enter his plea to the charge of assault with intent to kill.

Dawsey is the carpenter who slashed the throat of Mrs. Cora Wilson at her home on Lafayette street one night a few weeks ago, while upon a drunken spree. He was arraigned in Judge Louttit's court Saturday, pleaded not guilty, waived a preliminary hearing and was held in bonds of $2,000 to the circuit court. He has been suffering from self-inflicted wounds made in the attempt to end his own life immediately after attacking Mrs. Wilson.

OTHER COURT NOTES.

Today is the last day of the present term of the superior court. The new term begins next Monday.

The case of McTigue vs. Smith occupied the attention of Judge Aiken this morning, but it is believed it will be completed today.

The circuit court jury reported this morning and was immediately excused until this afternoon.

In the circuit court this morning the Branstrator will case was called, but was deferred until tomorrow at 9 o'clock.

The case of Keegan, trustee, vs. the Hamilton National bank, in the circuit court, was continued for special findings and conclusions of law.

Alexander McKeeman has brought suit in the superior court against Hugh Karn, et al., to quiet title.

Clara A. Kelker has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Elizabeth Fisher, deceased.

This was liquor license day in the commissioners' court and a total of twenty applications were on file. Three of these, made by Charles B. Furney and Commodore Hickman, of Maysville, and Allen Hursh, of Hurshtown, were confronted by remonstrances.

FOG.

The word "fog" has not been traced farther back than the sixteenth century, but the thing was known in the early years of the fourteenth. The commons, with the prelates and nobles visiting London for the parliaments and on other occasions, united to petition Edward I. to compel the burning only of dry wood and charcoal, as the growing use of sea coal corrupted the air with its stink and smoke to the great prejudice and detriment of health. In 1306 the king prohibited the use of coal; heavy ransom and fines were inflicted for disobedience; in the case of recalcitrant brewers, dyers and other artificers the furnaces and kilns were destroyed. But the restriction was evidently soon removed, for in 1308 £50 (probably equal to about £800 now) was paid from the exchequer for wood and coal for the coronation of Edward II.

UNCONSCIOUS WITTICISMS.

Dr. Macnamara, M. P., who has been a school teacher, gave a lecture on "Children's Witticisms" in London recently, in which he told a number of new stories. The really funny sayings are usually unconscious. "A vacuum," said one child, "is nothing shut up in a box." "An optimist," according to another, "is a man who attends to your head." A pessimist is "a man who attends to your feet." Among musical instruments were included "funny bones." Fort and fortress had no difference for one little fellow. "Fort is a place for soldiers to live in. Fortress is a place where they put their wives." Questions in history drew forth the following information: "The fire of London, although looked upon at first as a calamity, really did a great deal of good. It purified the city from the dregs of the plague and burned down eighty-nine churches." One on the Salic law said: "Edward III. would have been king if his mother had been a man." "The marriage custom of the ancient Greeks was this, that a man married only one wife, which was called monotony." "Faith is that quality which enables us to believe what we know to be untrue." Wesleyans will appreciate the remark of the child who, when writing of the birds, said: "The swallows go away in the winter, but the sparrows belong to this circuit."

NO MORE TRIBUTE TO BE PAID IN NEW YORK.

DECLARES THE EXTORTION HAS CEASED.

NOT ONE CENT CAN BE TAKEN FOR PROTECTION.

New York, Jan. 6.—Mayor Low sent his first message to the board of aldermen today. It was brief, and the only subject treated of was blackmail in the civil administration, in the stamping out of which he said he desired the co-operation of the people of the city.

"If during the next two years," the message says, "any citizen or any employe of the city pays money illegitimately, either to avoid injury or inconvenience, or to secure his rights, he will do it because he wants to and not because he must. No one, from the largest corporation to the poorest bootblack, need pay one dime for protection from harm, or to secure just treatment at the hands of the city government. No laborer, or other employe, need part with one cent of his salary to any one, either in or out of the city government. Any one asked to make an improper payment for any purpose has only to report the fact to the mayor to be sure of protection and redress. With the co-operation of the citizens and of the city employes, the whole foul system can be broken up."

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

A double back action trial took place Saturday afternoon in Bullerman's court in the presence of a large gathering of friends of both sides. Wilber Powell was fined a dollar and costs for assault and battery on William Gruber, and William Gruber was fined a dollar and costs for assault on Wilber Powell.

David Miller has filed an affidavit on Bullerman's official hook charging that Edward Wiseman did unlawfully draw a deadly weapon on him in the shape of knuckles. Whether brass or plain every day "bunch of fives" is meant, is not specified.

This afternoon a commission of lunacy, consisting of Justice France, Dr. Bilderback, of New Haven, and Drs. Morse Harrod and Macbeth, of this city, is considering the case of Jesse Lowrey, of New Haven. The application for a commission was filed by Mrs. Lowrey, who alleges that her husband is insane and in need of restraint. Lowrey has been acting strangely for the past two weeks and on retiring Saturday night he informed his wife that they would not probably rise again. She became alarmed and took refuge with her three children in the house of a relative and this morning filed her application. Lowrey is a wagonmaker and is well known in New Haven.

DECIDES AGAINST CITY.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Mayor Knight has been served with an injunction, issued by Judge Kenefick, of the supreme court of Erie county, forbidding th enforcement of a city ordinance fixing the maximum price of natural gas to be charged in this city at 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. It is held that the ordinance is unconstitutional. The present net rate is 30 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

VICTOR CAVALIER SUCCUMBS TO APOPLEXY.

Was a Widely Known Resident of Arcola—Other Deaths and Funeral Notices.

Victor Cavalier, one of the most widely known residents of Allen county, prominent and highly respected, died suddenly at his home in Arcola at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening. Mr. Cavalier had been apparently in his usual good health during the day, and after supper was seated in his chair when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy. Death ensued a few moments later.

Mr. Cavalier was born in Loraine, France, 67 years ago, and came with his parents to Allen county when a boy of eight years. The family settled in Arcola, where Mr. Cavalier grew to manhood. He engaged in mercantile pursuits and was uniformly successful. Under the first Cleveland administration he was postmaster at Arcola, but a few years ago disposed of his business interests and retired to his magnificent farm just south of that village.

He was united in marriage in 1857 to Marie Manier, daughter of parents who had journeyed from sunny France with those of Mr. Cavalier and located in Allen county near them. The surviving children are Mrs. Mary Rockhill, Mrs. Louise Hagan, Mrs. Elizabeth Ross and Mrs. Josephine Allen, of this city, the Misses Rose, Maggie and Sarah Cavalier, of Arcola, and John Cavalier, employed in the Fort Wayne offices of the Pennsylvania company.

Politically Mr. Cavalier was a democrat, and during his entire life he was prominent in every movement which had for its end the betterment of citizenship. He was honest, courageous and loyal, and enjoyed the esteem and respect of all who knew him. He was a devoted member of the Catholic church.

The funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence and at 9:30 from St. Patrick's Catholic church in Arcola.

The pall-bearers will be Messrs. William Kaough, Dennis Gorman, August Boueff, Cornelius Gearin, Patrick Twomey and Frederick Eme.

ZOLL.

She was stricken with the fatal illness on Tuesday. The surviving relatives include the mother, eight sisters and a brother—John Strasburg, a member of company C, Sixteenth regiment, now in the Philippines, Mrs. J. F. Motter, Mrs. W. F. Strasburg, Mrs. J. Westrick, Mrs. J. Homeler and the Misses Matilda, Agnes, Ellen and Frances Zoll. Miss Zoll was a devoted member of the St. Paul's Catholic church.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 8:30 from the residence and at 9 o'clock from St. Paul's church.

HABERKORN.

Henry Haberkorn, 70 years of age, died early Sunday morning at his home, 234 Hoagland avenue, after an extended illness from locomotor ataxia. He had been a resident of Fort Wayne forty-five years.

Mr. Haberkorn was a native of Germany and served for a time in the army of that empire. He emigrated to America in 1857, and for many years was employed as a machinist in the shops of the Pennsylvania company. Surviving are the widow and three children—Louis Haberkorn, of Chicago; Theodore Haberkorn, of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. George Klippert, of this city.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 under the auspices of Wayne lodge, F. and A. M., of which he was a member. The interment will be at Lindenwood.

SCHROEDER.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schroeder, of 71 Holton avenue, died Sunday afternoon from exhaustion.

BRING DAWSEY INTO COURT

WILL ENTER PLEA IN CIRCUIT COURT TOMORROW.

Superior Court Term Ends Today—Commissioners Take Up License Matters—Other Notes.

Prosecutor Emrick stated this afternoon that Frederick Dawsey would be brought into the circuit court tomorrow to enter his plea to the charge of assault with intent to kill.

Dawsey is the carpenter who slashed the throat of Mrs. Cora Wilson at her home on Lafayette street one night a few weeks ago, while upon a drunken spree. He was arraigned in Judge Louttit's court Saturday, pleaded not guilty, waived a preliminary hearing and was held in bonds of $2,000 to the circuit court. He has been suffering from self-inflicted wounds made in the attempt to end his own life immediately after attacking Mrs. Wilson.

OTHER COURT NOTES.

Today is the last day of the present term of the superior court. The new term begins next Monday.

The case of McTigue vs. Smith occupied the attention of Judge Aiken this morning, but it is believed it will be completed today.

The circuit court jury reported this morning and was immediately excused until this afternoon.

In the circuit court this morning the Branstrator will case was called, but was deferred until tomorrow at 9 o'clock.

Alexander McKeeman has brought suit in the superior court against Hugh Karn, et al., to quiet title.

Clara A. Kelker has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Elizabeth Fisher, deceased.

This was liquor license day in the commissioners' court and a total of twenty applications were on file. Three of these, made by Charles B. Furney and Commodore Hickman, of Maysville, and Allen Hursh, of Hurshtown, were confronted by remonstrances.

FOG.

The word "fog" has not been traced farther back than the sixteenth century, but the thing was known in the early years of the fourteenth. The commons, with the prelates and nobles visiting London for the parliaments and on other occasions, united to petition Edward I. to compel the burning only of dry wood and charcoal, as the growing use of sea coal corrupted the air with its stink and smoke to the great prejudice and detriment of health. In 1306 the king prohibited the use of coal; heavy ransom and fines were inflicted for disobedience; in the case of recalcitrant brewers, dyers and other artificers the furnaces and kilns were destroyed. But the restriction was evidently soon removed, for in 1308 £50 (probably equal to about £800 now) was paid from the exchequer for wood and coal for the coronation of Edward II.

UNCONSCIOUS WITTICISMS.

Dr. Macnamara, M. P., who has been a school teacher, gave a lecture on "Children's Witticisms" in London recently, in which he told a number of new stories. The really funny sayings are usually unconscious. "A vacuum," said one child, "is nothing shut up in a box." "An optimist," according to another, "is a man who attends to your head." A pessimist is "a man who attends to your feet." Among musical instruments were included "funny bones." Fort and fortress had no difference for one little fellow. "Fort is a place for soldiers to live in. Fortress is a place where they put their wives." Questions in history drew forth the following information: "The fire of London, although looked upon at first as a calamity, really did a great deal of good. It purified the city from the dregs of the plague and burned down eighty-nine churches." One on the Salic law said: "Edward III. would have been king if his mother had been a man." "The marriage custom of the ancient Greeks was this, that a man married only one wife, which was called monotony." "Faith is that quality which enables us to believe what we know to be untrue." Wesleyans will appreciate the remark of the child who, when writing of the birds, said: "The swallows go away in the winter, but the sparrows belong to this circuit."

EXPLAINS THE PRIZE AWARDS

SECRETARY LONG WRITES TO SENATOR NELSON.

Says Law Fixes Such Matters and the Court of Claims Decides—Why Sampson Got Much.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Long has addressed to Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, a long letter defending the navy department against what is believed to be unfriendly criticisms in connection with the distribution of prize money and bounty. The letter is called forth by one from the senator, asking for information on this point for the use of a western newspaper.

The secretary declares that the criticism that the department has discriminated in favor of Admiral Sampson and against Admiral Schley in the distribution of prize money and bounty is unjust, because the department has no control over this matter, the money being distributed from the treasury and all questions of law and fact relative to prize and bounty having been determined by the courts. The secretary calls attention to the laws touching prize and bounty as they existed at the beginning of the Spanish war, and says that, though advised by the attorney general that it might make a distribution, the navy department preferred to place the matter in the court of claims, and so far from displaying favoritism, adopted the most effective means in its power to secure a just determination by courts of law of the rights of all concerned.

Touching the claim of Admiral Sampson for bounty at Santiago, the secretary says that the distribution was made under a decree of the court of claims, which he cites, and from which no appeal was taken. He further points out that, under the prize laws, the commander-in-chief of the fleet is entitled to this "one-twentieth" of bounty by virtue of his position as commander-in-chief, whether he is personally present during the engagement or not. Says the secretary:

"As commander-in-chief, Admiral Sampson would, therefore, under the law, have been entitled to his share of the bounty for the destruction of the Spanish ships at Santiago if he had been on the north shore of Cuba at the time. This was the law, for which the navy department is no wise responsible."

On this point the secretary says that the department itself was the first to realize the inequalities of this law, and to make the recommendation which led to its repeal, so that "a rather amusing feature of the attacks made upon the navy department," as the secretary puts it, is that the administration is blamed more than two years after it had cured the evil. The secretary concludes his letter with an extract from the report of the auditor of the treasury for the navy department showing the status of the prize money and bounty cases, yet unsettled, owing to delays in the courts, and predicting a settlement within the year.

WILL STOP FIGHT.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Governor Nash has sent a telegram to Sheriff Taylor, of this county, saying: "The proposed fight at Cincinnati tonight between Mike Shreck and Larry Temple must not be permitted to occur." The sheriff, upon receipt of the message, took measures to carry into effect the governor's order. The fight is announced to be a boxing match, under the auspices of the Abbey club, but the governor evidently regarded it as a violation of the Ohio statutes.

Lost Hair

It's risky, this losing of the hair. You may not get it back again. When the hair first begins to fall out use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It will stop the falling and will make new hair come in. And it always restores color to gray hair.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Our readers will notice by the advertisement given on another page of this paper that Pickard Bros. are going to have another January Red Tag Sale. In speaking of the matter to a Sentinel reporter Messrs. Pickard Bros. said: "Our Red Tag Sale last year was a grand success. It moved the goods from our floors and gave us room to place our spring stock. Profiting by our past experience we have decided to adopt the same course again this year. Our Red Tag Sale accomplished its purpose last year, so that we have very few pieces that we had a year ago. We have a limited number of pieces left over from our spring stock, but the great majority of the articles placed in our Red Tag Sale are this fall's purchases. Our mode of procedure is familiar to most people as we advertised our Red Tag Sale well last year and thus brought hundreds of customers to our store during the sale. Our plan is as follows: We attach large red tags to different articles of furniture and chinaware and to lamps, stoves, etc., giving in plain figures the former price and the reduced Red Tag price, which in many cases is about half the former price and in some few cases even less than that. On all articles of chinaware, which are too small to mark with red tags, we shall give a discount of twenty per cent. We intend to make this the greatest clearance sale of furniture, stoves and chinaware ever given in Fort Wayne. The sale will continue through the month of January."

EXPLAINS THE PRIZE AWARDS

SECRETARY LONG WRITES TO SENATOR NELSON.

Says Law Fixes Such Matters and the Court of Claims Decides—Why Sampson Got Much.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Long has addressed to Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, a long letter defending the navy department against what is believed to be unfriendly criticisms in connection with the distribution of prize money and bounty. The letter is called forth by one from the senator, asking for information on this point for the use of a western newspaper.

The secretary declares that the criticism that the department has discriminated in favor of Admiral Sampson and against Admiral Schley in the distribution of prize money and bounty is unjust, because the department has no control over this matter, the money being distributed from the treasury and all questions of law and fact relative to prize and bounty having been determined by the courts. The secretary calls attention to the laws touching prize and bounty as they existed at the beginning of the Spanish war, and says that, though advised by the attorney general that it might make a distribution, the navy department preferred to place the matter in the court of claims, and so far from displaying favoritism, adopted the most effective means in its power to secure a just determination by courts of law of the rights of all concerned.

Touching the claim of Admiral Sampson for bounty at Santiago, the secretary says that the distribution was made under a decree of the court of claims, which he cites, and from which no appeal was taken. He further points out that, under the prize laws, the commander-in-chief of the fleet is entitled to this "one-twentieth" of bounty by virtue of his position as commander-in-chief, whether he is personally present during the engagement or not. Says the secretary:

"As commander-in-chief, Admiral Sampson would, therefore, under the law, have been entitled to his share of the bounty for the destruction of the Spanish ships at Santiago if he had been on the north shore of Cuba at the time. This was the law, for which the navy department is no wise responsible."

On this point the secretary says that the department itself was the first to realize the inequalities of this law, and to make the recommendation which led to its repeal, so that "a rather amusing feature of the attacks made upon the navy department," as the secretary puts it, is that the administration is blamed more than two years after it had cured the evil. The secretary concludes his letter with an extract from the report of the auditor of the treasury for the navy department showing the status of the prize money and bounty cases, yet unsettled, owng to delays in the courts, and predicting a settlement within the year.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 6.—Governor Nash has sent a telegram to Sheriff Taylor, of this county, saying: "The proposed fight at Cincinnati tonight between Mike Shreck and Larry Temple must not be permitted to occur." The sheriff, upon receipt of the message, took measures to carry into effect the governor's order. The fight is announced to be a boxing match, under the auspices of the Abbey club, but the governor evidently regarded it as a violation of the Ohio statutes.

Lost Hair
It's risky, this losing of the hair. You may not get it back again. When the hair first begins to fall out use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It will stop the falling and will make new hair come in. And it always restores color to gray hair.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Our readers will notice by the advertisement given on another page of this paper that Pickard Bros. are going to have another January Red Tag Sale. In speaking of the matter to a Sentinel reporter Messrs. Pickard Bros. said: "Our Red Tag Sale last year was a grand success. It moved the goods from our floors and gave us room to place our spring stock. Profiting by our past experience we have decided to adopt the same course again this year. Our Red Tag Sale accomplished its purpose last year, so that we have very few pieces that we had a year ago. We have a limited number of pieces left over from our spring stock, but the great majority of the articles placed in our Red Tag Sale are this fall's purchases. Our mode of procedure is familiar to most people as we advertised our Red Tag Sale well last year and thus brought hundreds of customers to our store during the sale. Our plan is as follows: We attach large red tags to different articles of furniture and chinaware and to lamps, stoves, etc., giving in plain figures the former price and the reduced Red Tag price, which in many cases is about half the former price and in some few cases even less than that. On all articles of chinaware, which are too small to mark with red tags, we shall give a discount of twenty per cent. We intend to make this the greatest clearance sale of furniture, stoves and chinaware ever given in Fort Wayne. The sale will continue through the month of January."

The latest reminder of Maclay is the appointment of a man to the job from which the "historian" was lately booted by the president. The place will probably not inspire the new occupant to write history.

The expenditure of half a million dollars in this city by the Pennsylvania railroad company during the present year is a sign of prosperity that ought to set other large projects in motion. There ought to be "something doing" on a large scale in Fort Wayne this year.

Out in Denver Sunday afternoon was devoted to a mass meeting of citizens called together to take measures for the suppression of murder, assault and other violent lawlessness in that city. The special purpose is to prevent the frequent assault of women on the streets of that city. A vigilance committee was organized and will aid the police.

Rudyard Kipling has written a poem in which he lampoons the British for indifference to the situation in South Africa, calls them blowhards, rails at able-bodied men who do not go forth to fight and sends a splitting blast of scorn at the heads of the "flanneled fools at the wickets" and the "muddied oafs at the goals," who are more concerned for crickett and the Rugby game than for the triumph of the empire in Africa. It is what an American might venture to call "hot stuff," and is a rattling good poem of the Kipling kind.

The isthmian canal project has been brought to a state that will give congress plenty to do in settling it. The commission has reported in favor of the Nicaragua route, but now comes the Panama company with an offer to sell concessions, plants and excavations for $40,000,000, a figure which will enable that waterway to be completed many millions less than the Nicaragua canal can be constructed for. Whereas it was beyond a few weeks ago that the bill providing for construction of the Nicaragua canal would be passed by congress without great difficulty, it is now apparent that congress will be sharply divided on the question of route.

IT WAS GOOD NEWS.

The Sentinel has never borne better news to the people of Fort Wayne than the announcement Saturday evening that the Pennsylvania Railroad company will spend half a million dollars for improvements in this city this year. This splendid program is fraught with so much good to every interest of the city and its people that the spirit of general rejoicing and felicitation that followed the announcement are easily understood.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company did not found Fort Wayne, but it has done what is almost, if not quite, as important. It has made Fort Wayne a city, and more than any other single agency has furnished the means of sustenance and growth. Naturally there is warm feeling of friendship for the big corporation that has been considerably intensified no doubt by the news that something like a boom in building and labor circles as well as a large permanent benefit have been vouchsafed by the big scheme of improvement soon to be inaugurated.

Superintendent McKim in recommending this big program of improvement is of course looking to provision for present and future needs of the Pennsylvania company at this point. But at the same time the benefits this approval of his plans so magnificently confers upon the city must not be overlooked nor go unappreciated. During his residence in Fort Wayne Superintendent McKim has shown a loyal citizen's public spirit and that it has been in his power to secure such large things for Fort Wayne is doubtless gratifying to himself, and it certainly is to his friends.

It has been known for some time that the Pennsylvania company desires to construct another track along Chicago street, north of the present main tracks, to meet certain demands for better depot facilities, and there never has been any disposition in any quarter to oppose the grant. It will be conferred now with double pleasure and we believe the people of Fort Wayne will always take pleasure in maintaining with the Pennsylvania Railroad company a genuine spirit of reciprocity.

FRED A. NEWTON DEAD.

A telegram was received yesterday by friends in the city, announcing the sudden death in Chicago of Frederick A. Newton from heart failure. Mr. Newton was formerly a resident of Fort Wayne, having been associated with the Coombs Hardware company up to the time the firm failed several years ago. Soon after he removed to Chicago, and at the time of his death was employed by a reality company in Chicago. He leaves a wife and two sons, the young men being in business in Chicago. Mr. Newton, who was about 55 years old, was very well known in this city, where he resided about ten years, and a large circle of friends will sincerely regret his death.

MAY JOIN POLO LEAGUE.

Messrs. Dave Eckart and B. S. O'Connor are considering the advisability of joining the polo league, which will be organized in Muncie on Friday. The teams which will probably be included in the circuit are Muncie, Anderson, Richmond, Fort Wayne and Racine, Wis. Teams representing the above cities have been playing for several months, and it is believed that a strong league can be organized. Games will be played once a week in each of the towns.

Master Gregory Vigeant, of Chicago, the talented boy soprano, delighted large audiences at the First Presbyterian and Trinity Episcopal churches yesterday. The evening recital at Trinity church was marred owing to the condition of the organ, and recitals will be discontinued until it is repaired.

MUCH NEW PAVING

ON MUNICIPAL PLAN FOR THE COMING YEAR.

OFFICIALS IN CONFERENCE

ENGINEER IS DIRECTED TO PREPARE ESTIMATES.

WORK IN PROSPECT FOR 1902

BOARD OF WORKS MEETS THIS AFTERNOON.

Mayor Berghoff, the board of public works, the city engineer and the city comptroller held an extended conference at the city hall this morning to talk over the outlook and get a line of municipal affairs which will command attention during the coming year. The conference was preliminary to the meeting of the board of works this afternoon, and was of an informal character, though it brought out indication of what the officials regard as of most importance in the way of public improvements.

Notable among the matters taken up was the list of instructions to be given the city engineer, for these include plans for extensive street paving. Mr. Randall was directed to prepare estimates for the paving of Maumee from Harmer street to the east side of Walton avenue; Maiden Lane, West Main street from the bridge to the city limits; Fairfield avenue from Brackenridge street to Creighton avenue; Columbia street from Calhoun to Barr, and Washington street from Calhoun to Harmer, including the strip on Harmer street necessary to connect Washington street and Maumee avenue.

WEST OF CALHOUN.

Another matter which has been hanging fire for several years was moved forward a peg, when it was also determined to instruct the city engineer to prepare estimates for paving every north and south street from Calhoun to and including Rockhill, between Main and Jefferson streets. There has long been complaint that the mud from these north and south streets was dragged upon the east and west streets which are paved, necessitating continuous expense for sweeping. It is the intention to take up only a portion of this work at the present, but the action today will doubtless amount to a long step forward in the matter of securing pavements upon these north and south streets.

The board of works will also secure estimates upon an additional street sweeper, and get figures upon the construction of a tool shed 50x96 feet in size upon the city's property on North Clinton street.

It is also desired to get away from the use of lumber for street and alley crossings, and the board will secure prices on brick and stone for this purpose.

City Engineer Randall expressed the belief that the South Wayne sewer would be completed by April 1, and it was determined that the city engineer be directed to at once prepare a complete sewer plan showing this sewer and the branches which will flow into it.

A number of other matters came up for discussion, including the progress of renumbering streets, and the proposition to place street markers upon the intersecting corners of all streets not now properly marked by name.

ATTENDANCE SMALL.

The Mandolin and Glee club of Bloomington university repeated its concert of Friday night the following evening at Westminster Presbyterian church before a very small and decidedly unappreciative audience. The program was necessarily shorter, but was in every respect just as good. The college boys stayed over Sunday and the double quartet assisted Westminster choir on Sunday morning. The club left for Wabash at 5 o'clock, where they will give a concert this evening. They were delighted with their visit in Fort Wayne and declare the city to be the most hospitable they have struck on their tour.

FESTIVAL OF EPIPHANY.

The festival of the Epiphany or Twelfth day occurs today, and was observed in the Catholic and Episcopal churches with the usual services. At the Cathedral Bishop Alerding celebrated pontifical high mass with Rev. P. F. Roche assistant; Rev. J. H. Bathe, deacon of the mass; Rev. P. J. O'Reilley, sub-deacon, and Rev. James Conolly and Rev. Edward Mungovan, deacons of honor. The choir rendered special music, and Miss Elizabeth Summers sang a solo. At Trinity Episcopal church services were held at 10 o'clock, Rev. Seabrease officiating. The day is the anniversary of the visit of the magi, or three wise men of the east, to the infant Jesus. These three mysterious strangers, who in process of time developed into three kings named Caspar, Melchior and Balthasar, descended respectively from Ham, Shem and Japheth, being regarded as the first fruits of the heathen world to Christ, the festival thus obtaining the designation it bears in the English prayer book, "the Epiphany," or manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles. It is also said to be the anniversary of the baptism of Jesus by John the Baptist. Today the king and queen of England make oblation of gold, frankincense and myrrh at the altar of the chapel royal either in person or by deputy.

BURNS' ANNIVERSARY.

The annual election of officers of the Caledonian society will be held this evening and a full attendance of members is desired. At this meeting committees will be appointed to make arrangements for the annual celebration in honor of the birthday anniversary of the Scottish poet, Robert Burns, which occurs on the 25th of this month.

HARD ON THE JOHNNIE BOYS.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Among the bills introduced in the lower house of the legislature today was one by Assemblyman William S. Bennett, of New York, making it a dismeanor to flirt on a public thoroughfare.

KING SOLOMON'S GUARANTEE

1. That all stock is Full Paid and Non-Assessable.
2. That No Personal Liability attaches against stockholders.
3. That the Company is legally Incorporated under the Laws of Nevada.
4. That No Official shall draw a salary until the Company is on a Dividend Paying Basis.
5. That Company Officials are absolutely prohibited from incurring any debts against the property of the Company.
6. That they will raise from the Treasury Reserve Stock sufficient funds to erect and equip a New Process Gold Extracting Mill upon the property of the Company.
7. That All Treasury stock, bought by Eastern investors, shall be Preferred Stock to the amount paid to the Company by the purchaser and as such shall receive a Special Dividend of 100 per cent. on purchase price before the Common Stock held by western promoters and officials can participate in Dividends.
8. That the Preferred Stockholders shall name three of the seven members of the Board of Trustees from their own number as soon as the mill fund is paid. This insures the eastern investors a perfect knowledge of all the business of this Company.
9. That the Preferred Stockholders shall also be privileged to name part of the laboring force at the mines and in the mill, thus giving them every possible means of information concerning the operations of the Company.
10. That Public Printed Statements shall be made to every Stockholder not less frequently than every three months, and that these statements shall embody all business of a public nature of interest and importance to Stockholders.

Note.—Can you suggest a safer, fairer proposition?

Never before in the history of Gold Mining has any Company given the Eastern Investors a 100 per cent. Preferred Stock Dividend before the Western Promoters and Stockholders receive any dividend at all. The King Solomon Company does this on every share of Treasury stock sold.

This is done to prove to the East that the West has unbounded faith in the property and that their business proposition shall be so eminently just that no fair-minded business man can question it.

The latest reminder of Maclay is the appointment of a man to the job from which the "historian" was lately booted by the president. The place will probably not inspire the new occupant to write history.

The expenditure of half a million dollars in this city by the Pennsylvania railroad company during the present year is a sign of prosperity that ought to set other large projects in motion. There ought to be "something doing" on a large scale in Fort Wayne this year.

Out in Denver Sunday afternoon was devoted to a mass meeting of citizens called together to take measures for the suppression of murder, assault and other violent lawlessness in that city. The special purpose is to prevent the frequent assault of women on the streets of that city. A vigilance committee was organized and will aid the police.

Rudyard Kipling has written a poem in which he lampoons the British for indifference to the situation in South Africa, calls them blowhards, rails at able-bodied men who do not go forth to fight and sends a splitting blast of scorn at the heads of the "funneled fools at the wickets" and the "muddied oafs at the goals," who are more concerned for cricket and the Rugby game than for the triumph of the empire in Africa. It is what an American might venture to call "hot stuff," and is a rattling good poem of the Kipling kind.

The isthmian canal project has been brought to a state that will give congress plenty to do in settling it. The commission has reported in favor of the Nicaragua route, but now comes the Panama company with an offer to sell concessions, plants and excavations for $40,000,000, a figure which will enable that waterway to be completed many millions less than the Nicaragua canal can be constructed for. Whereas it was believed a few weeks ago that the bill providing for construction of the Nicaragua canal would be passed by congress without great difficulty, it is now apparent that congress will be sharply divided on the question of route.

IT WAS GOOD NEWS.

The Sentinel has never borne better news to the people of Fort Wayne than the announcement Saturday evening that the Pennsylvania Railroad company will spend half a million dollars for improvements in this city this year. This splendid program is fraught with so much good to every interest of the city and its people that the spirit of general rejoicing and felicitation that followed the announcement are easily understood.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company did not found Fort Wayne, but it has done what is almost, if not quite, as important. It has made Fort Wayne a city, and more than any other single agency has furnished the means of sustenance and growth. Naturally there is warm feeling of friendship for the big corporation that has been considerably intensified no doubt by the news that something like a boom in building and labor circles as well as a large permanent benefit have been vouchsafed by the big scheme of improvement soon to be inaugurated.

Superintendent McKim in recommending this big program of improvement is of course looking to provision for present and future needs of the Pennsylvania company at this point. But at the same time the benefits this approval of his plans so magnificently confers upon the city must not be overlooked nor go unappreciated. During his residence in Fort Wayne Superintendent McKim has shown a loyal citizen's public spirit and that it has been in his power to secure such large things for Fort Wayne is doubtless gratifying to himself, and it certainly is to his friends.

It has been known for some time that the Pennsylvania company desires to construct another track along Chicago street, north of the present main tracks, to meet certain demands for better depot facilities, and there never has been any disposition in any quarter to oppose the grant. It will be conferred now with double pleasure and we believe the people of Fort Wayne will always take pleasure in maintaining with the Pennsylvania Railroad company a genuine spirit of reciprocity.

FRED A. NEWTON DEAD.

A telegram was received yesterday by friends in the city, announcing the sudden death in Chicago of Frederick A. Newton from heart failure. Mr. Newton was formerly a resident of Fort Wayne, having been associated with the Coombs Hardware company up to the time the firm failed several years ago. Soon after he removed to Chicago, and at the time of his death was employed by a reality company in Chicago. He leaves a wife and two sons, the young men being in business in Chicago. Mr. Newton, who was about 55 years old, was very well known in this city, where he resided about ten years, and a large circle of friends will sincerely regret his death.

MAY JOIN POLO LEAGUE.

Messrs. Dave Eckart and B. S. O'Connor are considering the advisability of joining the polo league, which will be organized in Muncie on Friday. The teams which will probably be included in the circuit are Muncie, Anderson, Richmond, Fort Wayne and Racine, Wis. Teams representing the above cities have been playing for several months, and it is believed that a strong league can be organized. Games will be played once a week in each of the towns.

Master Gregory Vigeant, of Chicago, the talented boy soprano, delighted large audiences at the First Presbyterian and Trinity Episcopal churches yesterday. The evening recital at Trinity church was marred owing to the condition of the organ, and recitals will be discontinued until it is repaired.

MUCH NEW PAVING

OFFICIALS IN CONFERENCE

ENGINEER IS DIRECTED TO PREPARE ESTIMATES.

WORK IN PROSPECT FOR 1902

BOARD OF WORKS MEETS THIS AFTERNOON.

Mayor Berghoff, the board of public works, the city engineer and the city comptroller held an extended conference at the city hall this morning to talk over the outlook and get a line of municipal affairs which will command attention during the coming year. The conference was preliminary to the meeting of the board of works this afternoon, and was of an informal character, though it brought out indication of what the officials regard as of most importance in the way of public improvements.

...THE... RURODE DRY GOODS CO.

Growing Better 1902 EVERY YEAR.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Wheat started in today to make new record prices for the crop. At the opening, under the influence of strong cables May sold ¼c to ⅝c higher than Saturday's close at 83½c to 84c. The higher opening figure was ¼c above the record set for May options during the big bull campaign a month ago. Indications early were that there was to be a revival of that movement. Trade was very heavy and though there were several bearish conditions present, after a small dip from the top price the market bore up strongly and held to the record. Weather reports indicated continued fair conditions in localities where moisture is needed. The strength abroad indicated by the higher cables rested on decreased stocks. Yet northwestern receipts were large, the amount of breadstuffs on passage was increased 704,000 bushels and world's shipments showed a marked increase. Commission houses were largely responsible for the advance in their number of buying orders from the outside. Local receipts were only 26 cars, none of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 836 cars, making a total for the three ponts of 862 against 942 last week and 687 a year ago. World's shipments were 7,482,000 bushels, compared with 6,872,000 bushels last week and 5,238,000 bushels a year ago.

Politics and the election of the president of the board kept matters dull for a time in wheat and May sagged back to 83⅜c. Shortly before the close, however, the strength in outside and cash markets started a bull movement which sent May booming up to 84⅜c, 1 cent above the previous record price for this crop. The close was very strong with May 1¼c up at 84½c.

Corn opened strong, more in sympathy with wheat, however, than on its own strength. In the main the pit seemed working to sell at a good advantage. The principal bull incentives were very strong cables, the scarcity of country offerings and small local receipts. Trade early was not very large, especially when compared to the enormous wheat business. As the day advanced, however, commission houses began putting more buying orders in the pit and the market grew larger. May opened ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝ higher at 67¾c to 68c and after easing momentarily under selling orders easily regained its top opening prices.

Oats opened strong and higher in sympathy with other grains. The trade was active though there were not a great number of traders in the pit. The demand was only scattered, but country offerings and receipts were small and few were put on the market. Professional bulls helped in the upward movement. May started ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c up at 46⅞c to 47c and hovered around the higher price. Receipts were 107 cars.

Provisions were dull compared to other pits. The hog market was strong, but speculation was almost featureless early and prices fluctuated very little. May pork opened unchanged at $17.37½, advanced 2½c and sagged back 5c; May lard 2½@3c higher at $10.00@10.02½, and May ribs 2½c up at $8.85 and eased to $8.82½.

THE CLOSE.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 6.—The opening of the market was irregular and industrials as a rule advanced while the railways fell away. There were very large takings of United States Steel stocks and stocks of railroad equipment companies. Locomotive preferred advanced 2¼. Exceptions to the general trend were Amalgamated Copper, which declined ⅝, and St. Paul and St. Louis and San Francisco, which rose sharp fractions.

The market held fairly steady for the greater part of the first hour and the bidding up of some of the low-priced specialties failed to create any interest in the speculative leaders. The coalers were less active, but there were increased dealings in the western and Pacific railroads. Distilling preferred sold up 1¾ and United States Express 2¼. Near 11 o'clock the entire market declined and Sugar, Manhattan, Metropolitan Street Railway and many of the leading railroads yielded a point or more below their opening prices.

Further declines were established ranging up to 2¼ in Consolidated Gas. The market became highly irregular. Amalgamated rose to 70¾ and there was a sharp recovery in Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central and Pennsylvania. Northwest advanced 3½, St. Louis and San Francisco 2¼, the second preferred 1¼ and Brooklyn Union Gas 2. Business became very dull on the rally and some stocks developed renewed heaviness and especially Missouri Pacific, which declined to 101¾, and Manhattan, which fell 2⅜ under Saturday.

Bonds were lower.

THE WORLD'S FIRST BILLIONAIRE.

An Income of More Than a Million Dollars a Month for One Man.

(From "Matte and Bullion," Arizona's Mining Journal.)

The United Verde Copper-Gold-Silver Mine is without question the greatest mine in the world. It consists of a sort of ore chimney 400x600 feet across that has been explored by shafts, tunnels and the diamond drill to a depth of 1,400 feet.

Now 1,400 feet is only about one-half the depth to which an ore body may be presumably worked to a profit, yet these dimensions, 400x600x1,400 show an ore body of 336,000,000 cubic feet, equal to about 33,000,000 tons, and as the ore runs $75 to the ton this alone represents about two billions and a half in value—$2,500,000,000. But this is only half the calculable value of the workable ore body.

Less than fifteen years ago that great mine went a long time begging for a purchaser at the measly little price of $30,000. And at that price it finally fell into the hands of Senator W. A. Clark, of Montana, who was even then one of the copper kings of the world—and the United Verde has made him today the richest man in all the world.

The stupendous fortune that Rockefeller has made in oil is a mere bagatelle to the value of the United Verde mine. Some eight or nine years ago he refused an offer of fifty millions for it from the French copper syndicate of Paris, and lately, it is said, he has declined to consider an offer of a hundred millions. Not many years ago this same Senator Clark was a district school teacher in the back woods of Missouri.

A thousand hard-working, honest workingmen in Fort Wayne will read this story tonight and refuse to believe such an opportunity ever came their way. If handed a block of United Verde stock they would believe it worthless, though worth $1,000 a share. If handed a check with Senator Clark's signature they would not attempt to cash it for fear it was a forgery. In fact the toiler has seen so many good opportunities go by him that he refuses to reach out and try to catch hold of one.

Any one of this thousand toilers could invest $20, and would like to do it, but poverty makes a man a coward in business and so when opportunity comes the man with $20 squeezes it all the tighter for fear he will lose it. Hence it never grows. But $20 put in the United Verde mine fifteen years ago would yield a man an income of more than $1,000 a year. That chance is gone.

But there is another chance here in Fort Wayne today for that toiler with $20. If he will invest it, it will all be paid back to him in a few weeks, but the investment will go on bringing him $20 every few months for the next 20 years. But why tell the poor man this? When he finds that the investment is in a gold mine he will squeeze his $20 all the tighter, for, as a rule, the poor man believes only fools and gamblers mine for gold.

The great King Solomon Mining Company can get along without the poor man's $20. But the poor man can never be anything else until he takes hold of the strong right arm of some deserving giant, like King Solomon, and permits himself to be guided into the field of opportunity.

FEW RICH MEN IN JAPAN.

The Jiji Shimpo has made a curious census of the rich men of Japan. The object of its investigations was to ascertain how many persons there are in the empire possessed of a fortune of 500,000 yen, which is equal to $250,000. The total number of these quarter-millionaires is 441. One-third of the number reside in Tokio, and the great majority are found, of course, in the capital and the progressive cities of Osaka, Kioto, Kobe and Yokohama. The result shows that there are ten rich men in the United States to one rich man in Japan, even when a million dollars is accepted as a standard in the United States and a quarter of a million in the Japanese empire. The proportion, however, is not so much against Japan as may at first appear. The rich men of the latter country, even the bankers and financiers, have their largest holdings in land. They have not yet specialized the business of money making as it has been in this country, and therefore the basis of fortunes is more stable. Again, it is estimated that a dollar in Japan is equal, in the amount it will purchase of comfort and luxury, to four or five dollars in the United States. With this consideration in view it will be seen that the apparently small fortunes of the Japanese wealthier classes are really much larger than they seem. The period of business and industrial development has just begun and fortunes are being made more rapidly now than they were ten or even five years ago. This is shown by the tremendous growth of the Japanese shipbuilding industry and in the accumulated fortunes of many financiers of Tokio and Yokohama. It is conceivable that another decade may see Tokio the great financial metropolis of the east, as London is of Europe and New York is of the American continent. Japan's day has just dawned, and it is idle to contrast the beginnings of her accumulations of wealth with the results of acquisitions in this country and in Europe.—Japan and America.

A BRAVE AMERICAN.

In Harper's Magazine there are printed for the first time the letters of Mrs. Rives, the wife of the American minister in France during the revolution of 1830. Mrs. Rives tells a charming little story of her husband, an ancestor of the recently appointed corporation counsel of New York.

"Some days after the revolution Mr. Rives received an invitation, in the name of the lieutenant general of the kingdom, inviting him to attend the chamber of deputies the next morning. There was so little order restored about these matters that we could not procure the necessary billets of admission; but having, I suppose, a sort of presentment that something extraordinary was to be done, and as Mr. Washington Irving, who happened to be with us, coincided with me in opinion that so polite a people would not refuse admittance to a lady, and that he might be smuggled in as an attache, we determined to make the experiment.

"On our arrival we found a great crowd of citizens of every sort around the portal, looking at every one as they descended from their carriages with a degree of familiarity that was far from being agreeable. 'Ah, ha, monsieur,' said one of them, scrutinizing Mr. Rives, 'you are quite fine with your habit brode, but where is the tricolor?' pointing at the same time to a national cocarde which adorned his own rusty hat and a tricolored ribbon depending from his buttonhole. Mr. Rives smiled. 'C'est dans mon coeur,' he said, putting his hand to his heart. 'Bravo,' replied the patriotic bourgeois, and immediately the crowd parted to the right and left, leaving a space wide enough for a coach and six to pass."

TESTING NEW DOLLARS.

Out of every fresh lot of silver dollars at the United States mints half a dozen are sent to the treasury to be tested. If they turn out to be of the requisite fineness and weight it is taken for granted that the whole issue is correct. The manner in which the coins are tested is elaborate. They are first rolled out into a flat thin strip more than a foot in length. Then the strip is placed beneath a row of punches which make holes in it so that after passing beneath the instrumet the strip looks more like a sieve than anything else. A large number of little discs are thus obtained and of these a dozen or so are taken and assayed to ascertain how much silver they contain. Being obtained from various parts of the coins thep represent fairly the average fineness of the dollar throughout. If the weight is short, beyond a tiny fraction, the whole batch of coins must be melted and made over again. This is also done in case the fineness exceeds the standard or falls below the limit. Otherwise the assayer indorsss the mintage and the dollars are put into circulation.—Washington Times.

JAPANESE DRESS REFORM.

Mrs. Hatoyama, who visited this country recently with her distinguished husband, thinks that a great reform in dress is beginning throughout Japan. The idea that Mrs. Hatoyama has in mind is not, however, the adoption by the Japanese women of the costumes of their New York or Parisian sisters. She wishes to add to the variety and beauty of the national dress of women by adopting bright and showy colors for evening costumes. She says that in Japan a woman above twenty must wear only dull colors and one above thirty must wear black, even at evening parties and court balls, and she, together with thousands of other feminine hearts, yearns for the light and beautiful gowns of the west. Mrs. Hatoyama, it should be added, also suggests to the men of Japan that they could imitate to advantage the homage that men pay to women in this country. She does not think that there is any danger in transplanting in Japan the freedom which America has bestowed upon its women both in public and at home.—Japan and America.

ALWAYS MORE WOMEN.

Lieutenant Thomas Benton Murdock has been a-traveling in the far east, and of some of his observations he says, according to the Kansas City Journal:

"There were more women than men on the streets, in the shops and stores of Kansas City—possibly two women to one man the proportion. There were more women than men on the streets, in the department stores, shops and offices in Chicago. Men outnumbered the women in the hotel offices, but not in the grill rooms, coffee and dining rooms. There appeared to be three women to one man on the streets of New York above Twenty-third. Women filled the ferry boats, street cars, retail stores, theaters, offices and hotels. Of the 800 people on the lower floors of the Waldorf-Astoria 500 of them were women. Where were the men?

"On the train to Washington there were more women than men; while there appeared to be five or six times as many women in and about Washington than there were men. Of the fifteen people on top of Washington monument nine were women. Of the seven people who climed to the dome of the capitol four of them were women. There were more men in the president's reception room than women; but all through the government buildings, the Smithsonian, Corcoran's art gallery and the congressional library women largely predominated. Of the 30,000 people who attended the army and navy football game Saturday after Thanksgiving more than half of them were women."

EXPOSITION IN JAPAN.

N. Kanzaki, Japan's special commissioner of foreign exhibits for the fair at Osaka in 1903, will shortly arrive in this country from Germany and exert his efforts to interest American manufacturers in Japan's enterprise. According to interviews that he has given abroad it is his intention to have the United States, Germany and Great Britain meet as industrial rivals at Osaka from March, 1903, to the end of the following July.

Hitherto industrial exhibitions in Japan, which have for many years been held at the periods of twice a decade, have been exclusively national in character, and, although the coming fair at Osaka will display Japanese manufacturers at their best, it is also the intention of the government to encourage competition among them by showing what European and American manufacturers have accomplished.

What Japan is most anxious to have exhibited at Osaka is what Germany, England and the United States are doing in regard to great public works—the utilization of water power for electric plants, canal building, the use of steel in the erection of buildings and bridges, tunneling and electrical traction. Just now the cities of Tokio, Osaka, Yokohama, Nagasaki and Hiroshima, although already supplied with waterworks, leave much to be desired in the way of sanitation.—New York Times.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Wheat started in today to make new record prices for the crop. At the opening, under the influence of strong cables May sold 1¼c to ⅜c higher than Saturday's close at 83¾c to 84c. The higher opening figure was ¼c above the record set for May options during the big bull campaign a month ago. Indications early were that there was to be a revival of that movement. Trade was very heavy and though there were several bearish conditions present, after a small dip from the top price the market bore up strongly and held to the record. Weather reports indicated continued frigid conditions in localities where moisture is needed. The strength abroad indicated by the higher cables rested on decreased stocks. Yet northwestern receipts were large, the amount of breadstuffs on passage was increased 704,000 bushels and world's shipments showed a marked increase. Commission houses were largely responsible for the advance in their number of buying orders from the outside. Local receipts were only 26 cars, none of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 836 cars, making a total for the three ports of 862 against 942 last week and 687 a year ago. World's shipments were 7,482,000 bushels, compared with 6,872,000 bushels last week and 5,238,000 bushels a year ago.

Politics and the election of the president of the board kept matters dull for a time in wheat and May sagged back to 83⅜c. Shortly before the close, however, the strength in outside and cash markets started a bull movement which sent May booming up to 84¼c, 1 cent above the previous record price for this crop. The close was very strong with May 1¼c up at 84½c.

Corn opened strong, more in sympathy with wheat, however, than on its own strength. In the main the pit seemed working to sell at a good advantage. The principal bull incentives were very strong cables, the scarcity of country offerings and small local receipts. Trade early was not very large, especially when compared to the enormous wheat business. As the day advanced, however, commission houses began putting more buying orders in the pit and the market grew larger. May opened ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝ higher at 67¾c to 68c and after easing momentarily under selling orders easily regained its top opening prices.

Corn continued to fluctuate rather idly after wheat, May closing firm, ¾@⅞c higher at 67¾c.

Oats opened strong and higher in sympathy with other grains. The trade was active though there were not a great number of traders in the pit. The demand was only scattered, but country offerings and receipts were small and few were put on the market. Professional bulls helped in the upward movement. May started ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c up at 46⅞c to 47c and hovered around the higher price. Receipts were 107 cars.

Provisions were dull compared to other pits. The hog market was strong, but speculation was almost featureless early and prices fluctuated very little. May pork opened unchanged at $17.37½, advanced 2½c and sagged back 5c; May lard 2½@5c higher at $10.00@10.02½, and May ribs 2½c up at $8.85 and easid to $8.82½.

The result shows that there are ten rich men in the United States to one rich man in Japan, even when a million dollars is accepted as a standard in the United States and a quarter of a million in the Japanese empire. The proportion, however, is not so much against Japan as may at first appear. The rich men of the latter country, even the bankers and financiers, have their largest holdings in land. They have not yet specialized the business of money making as it has been in this country, and therefore the basis of fortunes is more stable. Again, it is estimated that a dollar in Japan is equal, in the amount it will purchase of comfort and luxury, to four or five dollars in the United States. With this consideration in view it will be seen that the apparently small fortunes of the Japanese wealthier classes are really much larger than they seem. The period of business and industrial development has just begun and fortunes are being made more rapidly now than they were ten or even five years ago. This is shown by the tremendous growth of the Japanese shipbuilding industry and in the accumulated fortunes of many financiers of Tokio and Yokohama. It is conceivable that another decade may see Tokio the great financial metropolis of the east, as London is of Europe and New York is of the American continent. Japan's day has just dawned, and it is idle to contrast the beginnings of her accumulations of wealth with the results of acquisitions in this country and in Europe.—Japan and America.

A BRAVE AMERICAN.

In Harper's Magazine there are printed for the first time the letters of Mrs. Rives, the wife of the American minister in France during the revolution of 1830. Mrs. Rives tells a charming little story of her husband, an ancestor of the recently appointed corporation counsel of New York.

"Some days after the revolution Mr. Rives received an invitation, in the name of the lieutenant general of the kingdom, inviting him to attend the chamber of deputies the next morning. There was so little order restored about these matters that we could not procure the necessary billets of admission; but having, I suppose, a sort of presentment that something extraordinary was to be done, and as Mr. Washington Irving, who happened to be with us, coincided with me in opinion that so polite a people would not refuse admittance to a lady, and that he might be smuggled in as an attache, we determined to make the experiment.

"On our arrival we found a great crowd of citizens of every sort around the portal, looking at every one as they descended from their carriages with a degree of familiarity that was far from being agreeable. 'Ah, ha, monsieur,' said one of them, scrutinizing Mr. Rives, 'you are quite fine with your habit brode, but where is the tricolor?' pointing at the same time to a national cocarde which adorned his own rusty hat and a tricolored ribbon depending from his buttonhole. Mr. Rives smiled. 'C'est dans mon coeur,' he said, putting his hand to his heart. 'Brave,' replied the patriotic bourgeois, and immediately the crowd parted to the right and left, leaving a space wide enough for a coach and six to pass."

TESTING NEW DOLLARS.

Out of every fresh lot of silver dollars at the United States mints half a dozen are sent to the treasury to be tested. If they turn out to be of the requisite fineness and weight it is taken for granted that the whole issue is correct. The manner in which the coins are tested is elaborate. They are first rolled out into a flat thin strip more than a foot in length. Then the strip is placed beneath a row of punches which make holes in it so that after passing beneath the instrumet the strip looks more like a sieve than anything else. A large number of little discs are thus obtained and of these a dozen or so are taken and assayed to ascertain how much silver they contain. Being obtained from various parts of the coins they represent fairly the average fineness of the dollar throughout. If the weight is short, beyond a tiny fraction, the whole batch of coins must be melted and made over again. This is also done in case the fineness exceeds the standard or falls below the limit. Otherwise the assayer indorses the mintage and the dollars are put into circulation.—Washington Times.

JAPANESE DRESS REFORM.

Mrs. Hatoyama, who visited this country recently with her distinguished husband, thinks that a great reform in dress is beginning throughout Japan. The idea that Mrs. Hatoyama has in mind is not, however, the adoption by the Japanese women of the costumes of their New York or Parisian sisters. She wishes to add to the variety and beauty of the national dress of women by adopting bright and showy colors for evening costumes. She says that in Japan a woman above twenty must wear only dull colors and one above thirty must wear black, even at evening parties and court balls, and she, together with thousands of other feminine hearts, yearns for the light and beautiful gowns of the west. Mrs. Hatoyama, it should be added, also suggests to the men of Japan that they could imitate to advantage the homage that men pay to women in this country. She does not think that there is any danger in transplanting in Japan the freedom which America has bestowed upon its women both in public and at home.—Japan and America.

ALWAYS MORE WOMEN.

Lieutenant Thomas Benton Murdock has been a-travelling in the far east, and of some of his observations he says, according to the Kansas City Journal:

"There were more women than men on the streets, in the shops and stores of Kansas City—possibly two women to one man the proportion. There were more women than men on the streets, in the department stores, shops and offices in Chicago. Men outnumbered the women in the hotel offices, but not in the grill rooms, coffee and dining rooms. There appeared to be three women to one man on the streets of New York above Twenty-third. Women filled the ferry boats, street cars, retail stores, theaters, offices and hotels. Of the 800 people on the lower floors of the Waldorf-Astoria 500 of them were women. Where were the men?

"On the train to Washington there were more women than men; while there appeared to be five or six times as many women in and about Washington than there were men. Of the fifteen people on top of Washington monument nine were women. Of the seven people who climed to the dome of the capitol four of them were women. There were more men in the president's reception room than women; but all through the government buildings, the Smithsonian, Corcoran's art gallery and the congressional library women largely predominated. Of the 30,000 people who attended the army and navy football game Saturday after Thanksgiving more than half of them were woman."

EXPOSITION IN JAPAN.

N. Kanzaki, Japan's special commissioner of foreign exhibits for the fair at Osaka in 1903, will shortly arrive in this country from Germany and exert his efforts to interest American manufacturers in Japan's enterprise. According to interviews that he has given abroad it is his intention to have the United States, Germany and Great Britain meet as industrial rivals at Osaka from March, 1903, to the end of the following July.

Hitherto industrial exhibitions in Japan, which have for many years been held at the periods of twice a decade, have been exclusively national in character, and, although the coming fair at Osaka will display Japanese manufacturers at their best, it is also the intention of the government to encourage competition among them by showing what European and American manufacturers have accomplished.

What Japan is most anxious to have exhibited at Osaka is what Germany, England and the United States are doing in regard to great public works—the utilization of water power for electric plants, canal building, the use of steel in the erection of buildings and bridges, tunneling and electrical traction. Just now the cities of Tokio, Osaka, Yokohama, Nagasaki and Hiroshima, although already supplied with waterworks, leave much to be desired in the way of sanitation.—New York Times.

NEW HAVEN-BUTLER LINE IS NEARING COMPLETION.

ONLY SEVEN MILES TO BUILD

TWO BIG FORCES ARE LAYING TRACKS TODAY.

A REVISED WAGE SCHEDULE

PENNSYLVANIA SHOPMEN TO BE BENEFICIARIES.

"It is safe to say that track laying on the Butler road will be completed one week from tomorrow," said Superintendent E. A. Gould, of the Wabash, to a Sentinel representative this morning. "Saturday night there remained eight and a half miles of track to build and yesterday a little over 6,500 feet were put down, leaving a trifle over seven miles to build. We have permission to run our work trains across the Baltimore and Ohio tracks at St. Joe and this morning another work train was put in service and a gang of workmen commenced laying rails south from that place," continued Mr. Gould.

The road is being ballasted and put in shape for business as fast as the rails are laid and will be ready to open to traffic just as soon as the last rail is in position. Two train loads of gravel daily pass through this city and a large force of men is employed in distributing and tampping it along the line. From the Maumee river to St. Joe there is not the least deviation from a straight line and trains on the Baltimore and Ohio road can be seen crossing the right-of-way for a distance of a dozen or more miles.

Mr. Gould, accompanied by Col. E. G. Thompson, went on an inspection trip over the new road this morning, leaving the city at 9:30 and returning at noon. They traveled by a special train.

VALLERY IS PROMOTED.

All the manufacturers and big shippers of Fort Wayne know John F. Vallery and all admire him and give him a hearty welcome when he appears in the city. These friends will be pleased to learn that Mr. Vallery has been promoted and sorry to learn that his visits to Fort Wayne will be less frequent in the future than they have been in the past. He has been appointed general freight agent at Cincinnati of the Burlington road. Mr. Vallery was "on the road" for the Burlington for twelve years and made monthly and sometimes semi-monthly visits to Fort Wayne.

REVISING THE WAGE SCHEDULE

The Sentinel is informed that a revision of the wage schedule of the employes of the Pennsylvania shops of the lines west of Pittsburg has been made and that when the next pay day arrives a large portion of the men will be surprised by finding to their credit a greater amount in the way of wages than they have been in the habit of receiving. This is not a general increase of wages, but rather an equalization, and as stated not all of the employes will be affected by it. No reduction in any quarter will occur, however, and possibly a third or a half of the force will come in for an increase, so there can be no grounds for complaint from any one. The new schedule went into effect January 1.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

The public installation of the officers of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, last evening, was a most happy affair and will long be remembered with pleasure by all interested.. Following the installation ceremonies, was a literary and musical entertainment given by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Swaidner's orchestra delighted the audience with some well executed concert overtures and the Younger Mandolin club came in also for a good share of the plaudits. Refreshments were served by the ladies also.

MASTER MECANICS' MEET.

All the master mechanics of the Northwestern system of the Pennsylvania are here today, holding a conference with Superintendent of Motive Power D. F. Crawford, in the latter's office. In the party are Master Mechanics B. Fitzpatrick, Fort Wayne; John Dalman, New Castle; J. D. Harris, Wellsville; George P. Sweeley, Allegheny, and W. F. Beardsley, Crestline.

WORKING ON THE PLANS.

N. M. Loney, foreman of the lathe department of the Pittsburg shops, has been called to the draughting department to assist in making plans for the new superintendent's building, the new round house, the remodelling of the machine shop, the extension of the freight house and kindred improvements mentioned in The Sentinel Saturday. It is proposed to rush the improvements along and a few days will see teams and men engaged in making excavations for the office building, as this must be completed before the old building can be torn down and the additions to the machine shop commenced. The Sentinel hopes to be able to give to the public a detailed account of the proposed improvements as soon as the plans and specifications are completed. During the absence from the shop of Mr. Loney, W. Y. Cherry will officiate as foreman of the lathe gang. Mr. Cherry has had experience in that line.

A GOOD RUN.

Engineer J. A. Keplinger, of the Pittsburg, who has a long string of fast runs to his credit, did a "stunt" in that line last Friday evening which is worthy of note, if it did not beat previous records. On that date, with engine 100, one of the new class E-2, Mr. Keplinger brought the first section of No. 11, in charge of Conductor Thomas Hall, from Convoy to this city in twenty-two minutes, including one stop. Estimating the loss by the stop at two minutes, it makes the average speed of the train 1.3 miles per minute, or 75 miles per hour, which for a twenty-five mile stretch is very good time. Mr. Keplinger is one of the oldest men employed on the Pittsburg road in term of service. He commenced work with the company during the building of the road and began firing a locomotive in August, 1854. In August, 1863, he was promoted to engineer and for the past thirty years has been running a passenger engine, most of the time between this city and Crestline. Concerning his service, Road Foreman C. R. Colmey says it is remarkably free from accidents. In fact, Mr. Keplinger's record is one of the best.

FRIGHTENED HIS PARENTS.

Saturday evening Victor, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Colmey, strayed from his mother's side while she was making some purchases on Calhoun street. Passing out to the sidewalk, the little fellow started southward and was met at the railway tracks by Mr. Meyers, a neighbor. Not knowing where Mr. and Mrs. Colmey were, Mr. Meyers took the lad home. In the meantime the father and mother had missed Victor and were engaged in a hunt for him, assisted by a score of friends, when the glad tidings that Victor was home reached them.

IMPROVEMENTS ELSEWHERE.

It is learned that a considerable sum is to be expended in enlarging the Pennsylvania shops at Dennison, Ohio. News from Lima is to the effect that plans are under way for improving and enlarging the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton shops in that city. For this purpose an appropriation of $150,000 has been made.

CHANGE OF FOREMEN.

An important change in some of the departments of the Knitting mills has occurred. George Davidson, jr., has resigned the position of foreman of the seamless automatic department of the United mills for the purpose of taking a similar position in the east and has already left for his new home. He has been succeeded by Walter Majors, who was advanced from assistant foreman. George Davidson, sr., formerly foreman of the ribbing and winding department, has been made overseer of the various departments and his assistant, John Rathert, has been promoted to the foremanship of the ribbing and winding rooms. All these men are worthy and popular and their promotions are made entirely upon their merits.

BARNES DENIES THE STORY.

A telegram from Springfield, Ill., and published in the Cincinnati Enquirer yesterday morning, stated that M. E. Coutant, chief draughtsman of the Wabash, had been appointed George S. McKee's successor. Yesterday a telegram from Mr. Barnes stated that "the affairs of the motive power and machinery departments at Fort Wayne are in his name temporarily and that Mr. Coutant was his representative." The Sentinel was informed by Mr. Barnes last week that no appointment would be made for some time and it seems that he is still of that opinion.

ANKLE BADLY INJURED.

NEW TELEGRAPH OPERATOR.

Charles Wallace, a telegraph operator, has take a position at the Nickel Plate offices, made vacant by the resignation of one of the men. Mr. Wallace came directly from New Orleans, where he was employed in one of the railway offices. He comes north especially on account of his wife, whose health will not permit a longer stay in the south.

WILL START UP TOMORROW.

The factories of Rhinesmith & Simonson and the Anthony Wayne Manufacturing company, which were closed for inventory and repairs, were not able to resume operations this morning, as expected, owing to the carpenters and masons not completing their work in due time. Everything will be ready to start up tomorrow, however. The factories have lots of work before them and the shut-down is going to delay the delivery of a few jobs a short time.

SHIPPING BOILERS.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will ship three large water tube boilers to Terre Haute this week, the first leaving the works this morning. These boilers are of 200-horse power capacity each and were built for the Columbian Enameling and Stamping company. When these boilers reach Terre Haute there will then be eleven of Bass' latest water tube boilers in that city. The Highland Iron and Steel company's plant has a battery of eight of these high-type boilers.

He is suffering from an attack of rheumatism, but is now improving and hopes to be able to go to his office in a day or two.

CHANGE OF FOREMEN.

An important change in some of the departments of the Knitting mills has occurred. George Davidson, jr., has resigned the position of foreman of the seamless automatic department of the United mills for the purpose of taking a similar position in the east and has already left for his new home. He has been succeeded by Walter Majors, who was advanced from assistant foreman. George Davidson, sr., formerly foreman of the ribbing and winding department, has been made overseer of the various departments and his assistant, John Rathert, has been promoted to the foremanship of the ribbing and winding rooms. All these men are worthy and popular and their promotions are made entirely upon their merits.

BARNES DENIES THE STORY.

A telegram from Springfield, Ill., and published in the Cincinnati Enquirer yesterday morning, stated that M. R. Coutant, chief draughtsman of the Wabash, had been appointed George S. McKee's successor. Yesterday a telegram from Mr. Barnes stated that "the affairs of the motive power and machinery departments at Fort Wayne are in his name temporarily and that Mr. Coutant was his representative." The Sentinel was informed by Mr. Barnes last week that no appointment would be made for some time and it seems that he is still of that opinion.

ANKLE BADLY INJURED.

NEW TELEGRAPH OPERATOR.

Charles Wallace, a telegraph operator, has take a position at the Nickel Plate offices, made vacant by the resignation of one of the men. Mr. Wallace came directly from New Orleans, where he was employed in one of the railway offices. He comes north especially on account of his wife, whose health will not permit a longer stay in the south.

WILL START UP TOMORROW.

The factories of Rhinesmith & Simonson and the Anthony Wayne Manufacturing company, which were closed for inventory and repairs, were not able to resume operations this morning, as expected, owing to the carpenters and masons not completing their work in due time. Everything will be ready to start up tomorrow, however. The factories have lots of work before them and the shut-down is going to delay the delivery of a few jobs a short time.

SHIPPING BOILERS.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company will ship three large water tube boilers to Terre Haute this week, the first leaving the works this morning. These boilers are of 200-horse power capacity each and were built for the Columbian Enameling and Stamping company. When these boilers reach Terre Haute there will then be eleven of Bass' latest water tube boilers in that city. The Highland Iron and Steel company's plant has a battery of eight of these high-type boilers.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Thomas Quinlan, of the Electric works, who was sick last week, reported for duty this morning.

Bert Keplinger, ex-Pittsburg fireman, is now on duty behind the counters at the store of J. A. Armstrong & Company. He will probably take the road in the interest of the firm as soon as he becomes familiar with the business.

Philip Yoder, for twenty-seven years a section foreman on the Pittsburg road, with headquarters in Chicago, is dead, aged seventy-two years. He was supposed to be a poor man, but after death cash, papers and real estate to the value of $30,000 were found by the administrator.

Samuel Vauclain, inventor of the Vauclain type of railroad locomotive, has, through this invention and others in the way of improvement to locomotives, become a multimillionaire. He is now general manager of the Baldwin locomotive works at Philadelphia. His father was the first shop foreman that the Pennsylvania had at Altoona.

Pittsburg Fireman J. H. Knight is off duty on account of sickness.

On account of the sickness of his wife, J. G. Roper is not at his usual place in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning.

Jack Ryan, who was married a few days ago in Port Huron, Mich., where he went for the purpose of "visiting his parents," as he said, resumed his duties in the Wabash shops this morning.

Machinist Robert Taylor, of the Bass works, is confined to his room by the grip. He was taken sick at Cadillac last week, where he was setting up a big Bass improved Corliss engine in a sawmill.

The White Carnation club, composed of Wabash shopmen, will give a reception next Thursday evening at Taylor's hall. Over 500 invitations have been issued and still the demand has not been satisfied.

Fireman George Smith resumed his duties on the Pennsylvania transfer engine, No. 190, this morning after an absence on account of sickness of his wife, who was threatened with an attack of typhoid fever.

Nickel Plate Dispatcher J. E. Allen is at Arcola, preparing for the funeral of his father-in-law, Victor Cavalier, whose death is announced in another column. Ed Champion has been transferred from the yard to the main office to work during the absence of Mr. Allen.

General Manager J. J. Wood, of the Fort Wayne Electric company, was on the streets for a few moments Saturday afternoon, the first time he had been out of his house in ten days. He is suffering from an attack of rheumatism, but is now improving and hopes to be able to go to his office in a day or two.

Fred Lenz, the springmaker; Al. Throckmorton and J. K. Long, blacksmiths, and John Moring, the oiler, resumed their respective duties at the Pittsburg shops this morning after being on the sick list a few days.

Boiler Foreman James Murray, of the Wabash, went to Detroit on company business this morning. Thence he will go to Ashley, returning here about Wednesday. Ernest Heuer is acting foreman during Mr. Murray's absence.

Frank Aiken, at the head of the local freight weighing and inspecting bureau, was too busy to make his usual trip to Chicago yesterday to see his family and remained here over Sunday for the first time in many months.

James Cull and Ernest Steele, machinists at the Wabash shops, are sick and unable to work. Machinist Charles Worcup, who was taking a two weeks' vacation, and Apprentice Robert Shuman, who had a finger injured two weeks ago, reported for duty at the same shop.

Stoehr and Karl Bahlinger are sick, and W. H. Korte, G. Ketchum and J. Beitsell are looking after private business. All are employed in the Pittsburg shops.

Conductor John O. Ginty, of the Pennsylvania, has taken a two weeks' leave of absence from his train duties for the purpose of looking after the Voluntary Relief department, of which he is a member of the advisory board. In the meantime Conductor Ed Nulf will have charge of Mr. Ginty's duties on trains 8 and 21, on division C.

POLO GAME IS OFF.

DEPARTMENT'S DOINGS FOR THE YEAR 1901.

Two Prisoners in Court Grasped the Opportunity to Get Put Out of Town—Police Notes.

Superintendent Gorsline is completing his statistical report of the work of the Fort Wayne police department for the year 1901, and it shows that a total of 815 arrests were made during the year. The nativity of the persons arrested shows 353 from Indiana, 144 from Ohio, 50 from Germany, 32 from New York, 28 from Michigan, 27 from Illinois and 39 from Ireland. Practically every state in the union is represented in the list of prisoners.

There are now forty men in the city's police department, including the humane officer and the electrician. The average age of the members of the force is 43 years; average weight, 186 pounds; average height, 5 feet 10¾ inches. As regards nativity, 24 were born in Indiana, 4 in Germany, 4 in Ohio, and Ireland, France, Michigan, Illinois, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Maryland and Scotland were each the birthplace of one member of the force.

During the year there were 60,268 box calls and 30,748 telephone calls—a total of 91,016—answered by the clerks. A total of 65 abandoned bicycles were picked up and returned by the officers, and nearly 200 doors were found unlocked.

WERE WILLING TO GO.

Two prisoners faced Judge Louttit as he ascended the bench in the municipal court this morning. The first was Michael Sullivan, who is the proprietor of a rich Irish brogue and a thirst for liquor. Michael was arrested by Officer Paul early in November at Main and Lafayette streets, and has been doing a jail sentence for trespass, he having forced his way while drunk into a residence there and made himself extremely obnoxious. Michael's jail sentence was completed this morning and he appeared as though Sheriff Stout's fare had agreed with him. Michael had fondly anticipated his liberty, but this morning found a charge of indecent exposure lodged against him. He assumed an air of extreme penitence and explained that he was drunk at the time and did not know what he was doing. Judge Louttit asked if the prisoner believed he could get out of the state in double quick time and stay out. Michael was confident of his ability in this direction, and with profuse protestation of thanks, bowed his way out.

Orville Adams was picked up in the Wabash yards yesterday by Detective Coling and slated for vagrancy. Adams is not a stranger to the Fort Wayne force, and he has done time for burglary. He was standing by a campfire in the Wabash yards yesterday, and couldn't give a plausible reason for his presence in the city, though to Superintendent Gorsline he coyly admitted that he was engaged to a young lady in this city and was here to call upon her. He was willing to get out, however, and eagerly accepted Judge Louttit's invitation to leave town. His honor set the time limit at 6 o'clock this evening, and warned Adams that if he were found inside the city limits at that hour he would be gathered in and sentenced upon the vagrancy charge.

OTHER POLICE NOTES.

Officers found a bad gas leak at Calhoun and Highland streets and reported the matter to the gas company.

The department has been notified that the Rippe livery barn, on Broadway, picked up a bay horse that was estray upon the streets yesterday.

The wagon was called at 4:25 o'clock Sunday afternoon to Reservoir lake to remove Leonard Mandeville to his home at 148 Eliza street. The lad had broken his leg in a fall upon the ice, but when the ambulance arrived friends had assisted the boy to his home.

The police department is anxious to learn if any farmers in the vicinity of the city missed any chickens or turkeys on Thursday or Friday night. If so, the losers are requested to call at the station, where thirty-five Dominick hens and six turkeys are in durance vile. They were in the possession of Lloyd Moore, arrested Saturday morning.

HORSE KICKED HIM.

David Brown, of 12 Sherman street, was seriously injured by being kicked by a horse Saturday night. While standing on a chair in the stall he missed his footing and fell, striking the animal's hind legs in falling. The horse let go with both feet, and the blow broke Mr. Brown's right leg. The horse kicked him a second time, and a fractured right arm was the result. Mr. Brown rolled out of reach of the dangerous hoofs and his cries soon brought help. He was assisted to the house, where Dr. Stults attended him, assited by Dr. L. P. Drayer. In falling from the chair Mr. Brown sustained a dislocation of the left shoulder.

MARRIED IN DETROIT.

A Detroit exchange prints the following: "At 7:30 Friday evening, by Justice A. B. Treat, were married Miss Eva Williams and Abram Schefman. The bride is a sister of Mrs. B. Barnett, of this city and while an inmate of her home has made many friends here who will be interested to learn of her marriage and in her future happiness. Mr. Schefman's home is in Fort Wayne and that city will be their residence town. He is a salesman for the Becker Paper company, of Fort Wayne, and a hustling young business man. They are at present at the Barnett home."

HAS LOST HIS EYESIGHT.

John Hirons, the well known manufacturer of patent medicine, has been gradually losing his eyesight, and within a very short time will be totally blind. He lost the sight of one of his eyes about two years ago and since then the sight of the other has been gradually failing. Some time ago Mr. Hirons suffered a broken leg, from which he has not quite recovered.

IS A MANILA DRUGGIST.

Robert Weber, son of B. Weber, of the Weber hotel, is in the drug business in Manila and is prospering, says Winton Bennett, who has just returned from the islands. Mr. Weber, jr., enlisted in 1898 and most of his term has been served in the archipelago. His father has not heard from his directly since last June and had become alarmed.

MUTINIED AT SEA.

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 6.—With their captain dead, two men in prison for rebellious conduct and a crew bordering on mutiny, the subordinate officers of the French bark Connetable de Richemont, discharging coal at Howard's dock, have appealed to the French consulate, the commander of the French cruiser Protet, lying in San Francisco harbor, and the Oakland police for protection. Mate Thicutin, who is in temporary charge of the vessel, is maintaining his authority with a loaded pistol. The trouble on board the bark began during her 157-day voyage from Swansea to San Francisco, thirty days of which were occupied in beating around Cape Horn. The delay enraged the crew, one of whom knocked the chief mate down. Another flatly refused to obey orders. Captain Thoreaux died last Friday and since that time the mates have been unable to control the men. Two of the mutinous sailors have been arrested, and if the local court cannot deal with them, they will be turned over to the officers of the cruiser Protet.

He is not quite thirty-six, graduating from McCormick in 1889, and after studying in Germany, had a charge in Sedalia, Mo. He is one of the members of the committee on revision of the creed. The pulpit of the Fifth avenue Presbyterian church has been vacant since the death of the former pastor, the late Dr. George T. Purvis, September 17 last.

He says he has a good home, but could not return to it on account of the charge hanging over him, and he wants to go back to his company and face the music. An officer from Chicago will come down to escort him back.

LIFE CONVICT IS DEAD.

Bear was about sixty years of age and in a fit of wild frenzy killed his son with a shotgun. The question of Bear's insanity was raised by the attorneys for his defense, but he was convicted and served less than a year in prison.

ROYALTY AT SEA.

The number of royal yachts in existence and the immense sums lavished on them are amazing when it is taken into consideration how much royal and imperial personages are a prey to mal-de-mer. The German emperor is always ill when facing a gale at sea. The empress is a much better sailor in this respect. When the two of them went to the Holy Land the empress was the only person of the imperial circle on board who was not prostrated by seasickness during the trip down the Adriatic. Prince Henry of Prussia likewise confesses to seasickness each time on going to sea after being in port for awhile. The duke of Cornwall is afflicted in the same way and the duchess is such a martyr to seasickness that she hesitated for a long time before consenting to undertake the tour just concluded. She suffered intensely during the trip from Portsmouth to Gibraltar, the weather in the Bay of Biscay being very stormy.

King Edward, although devoted to yachting, has been absolutely prostrated by mal-de-mer when crossing the channel between Dover and Calais. Indeed, the only member of the English royal family who is absolutely immune from this ailment is the widowed duchess of Albany.—London M. A. P.

BOY EVANGELIST.

The conservative religious leaders of Great Britain are agitated by the attention which is being given to a boy evangelist from the United States. The lad in question is John or "Jack" Cooke. He is 15 years old and was born in England. He was carried to America by his parents when he was an infant and was brought up in New York. He had little schooling and believes that his power as a pulpit orator is the gift of inspiration. Before his recent going to England he preached before large audiences in the eastern states and created an especial sensation at Ocean Grove.

He was taken to England by Rev. J. Russell Coutts and has been presented to the public there as an exhorter in the Baptist chapel in Bloomsbury. He is attracting great audiences, but the religious fathers of England are lifting their hands in deprecation of what they call "American sensationalism."

FADS AMONG MEN.

Men, as well as women, like fads. In fact, some of the New York men are especially addicted to fads, and vie with each other in starting the most original ones. A very fashionable man, who prides himself on his good taste in dress, has started the fad of wearing openwork white lisle thread stockings for full dress, with low patetnt leather shoes. The shoes, highly polished, are not so high as those which have been worn within the past few years, and instead of being buttoned or laced, are tied with a broad taffeta ribbon in a big bow. This all sounds rather effeminate, but when a "swagger" looking man, with well fitting clothes, starts such a fad, really anything he chooses "goes" and he is willing to hold himself responsible for what might, in another man, be called eccentricity.

Another fad which some of the smart men have started this year is to wear, with a full dress suit, a finely plaited shirt, such as used to be worn at least fifty years ago by the Beau Brummels of society. The only difference in the fad, or shirt, rather, of today and that of many years ago is that it is made in groups or narrow tucks—three, five or seven—with quite a space between and the material is of the finest cambric, but slightly starched—the soft effect seems to be what is most desired. Many of the young matrons are making these dress shirts by hand for their husbands and they are really beautifully sewed.

SEASICK CIGARS.

Since our troops have been in the Philippines my friends among the officers stationed there have at frequent intervals been remembered with boxes of Manila cigars," remarked a member of Uncle Sam's fighting force who was severely wounded at El Caney and is now on the retired list, to a Star reporter. "I have learned to prefer the tobacco of the far east to the domestic brand and do not see how I could now get along without the fragrant Manilas.

"Recently I received a shipment of cigars," he continued, "but they proved a sad disappointment. In fact, they seemed to me to be entirely worthless. I puffed at one after another, but they simply could not be smoked. In despair I finally consulted a well known tobacconist. The situation was no problem to him. He promptly told me to lay the cigars aside for a few weeks, after which I would find them all right. He was correct. When I sought an explanation the tobacconist assured me in all seriousness that the cigars had been seasick from the voyage across the Pacific and needed rest.

"I have since learned," added the officer, "that wines and liquors are afflicted in a similar manner by ocean shipment."—Washington Star.

ROYALTY AT SEA.

The number of royal yachts in existence and the immense sums lavished on them are amazing when it is taken into consideration how much royal and imperial personages are a prey to mal-de-mer. The German emperor is always ill when facing a gale at sea. The empress is a much better sailor in this respect. When the two of them went to the Holy Land the empress was the only person of the imperial circle on board who was not prostrated by seasickness during the trip down the Adriatic. Prince Henry of Prussia likewise confesses to seasickness each time on going to sea after being in port for awhile. The duke of Cornwall is afflicted in the same way and the duchess is such a martyr to seasickness that she hesitated for a long time before consenting to undertake the tour just concluded. She suffered intensely during the trip from Portsmouth to Gibraltar, the weather in the Bay of Biscay being very stormy.

King Edward, although devoted to yachting, has been absolutely prostrated by mal-de-mer when crossing the channel between Dover and Calais. Indeed, the only member of the English royal family who is absolutely immune from this ailment is the widowed duchess of Albany.—London M. A. P.

BOY EVANGELIST.

The conservative religious leaders of Great Britain are agitated by the attention which is being given to a boy evangelist from the United States. The lad in question is John or "Jack" Cooke. He is 15 years old and was born in England. He was carried to America by his parents when he was an infant and was brought up in New York. He had little schooling and believes that his power as a pulpit orator is the gift of inspiration. Before his recent going to England he preached before large audiences in the eastern states and created an especial sensation at Ocean Grove.

He was taken to England by Rev. J. Russell Coutts and has been presented to the public there as an exhorter in the Baptist chapel in Bloomsbury. He is attracting great audiences, but the religious fathers of England are lifting their hands in deprecation of what they call "American sensationalism."

FADS AMONG MEN.

Men, as well as women, like fads. In fact, some of the New York men are especially addicted to fads, and vie with each other in starting the most original ones. A very fashionable man, who prides himself on his good taste in dress, has started the fad of wearing openwork white lisle thread stockings for full dress, with low patetnt leather shoes. The shoes, highly polished, are not so high as those which have been worn within the past few years, and instead of being buttoned or laced, are tied with a broad taffeta ribbon in a big bow. This all sounds rather effeminate, but when a "swagger" looking man, with well fitting clothes, starts such a fad, really anything he chooses "goes" and he is willing to hold himself responsible for what might, in another man, be called eccentricity.

Another fad which some of the smart men have started this year is to wear, with a full dress suit, a finely plaited shirt, such as used to be worn at least fifty years ago by the Beau Brummels of society. The only difference in the fad, or shirt, rather, of today and that of many years ago is that it is made in groups or narrow tucks—three, five or seven—with quite a space between and the material is of the finest cambric, but slightly starched—the soft effect seems to be what is most desired. Many of the young matrons are making these dress shirts by hand for their husbands and they are really beautifully sewed.

SEASICK CIGARS.

Since our troops have been in the Philippines my friends among the officers stationed there have at frequent intervals been remembered with boxes of Manila cigars," remarked a member of Uncle Sam's fighting force who was severely wounded at El Caney and is now on the retired list, to a Star reporter. "I have learned to prefer the tobacco of the far east to the domestic brand and do not see how I could now get along without the fragrant Manilas.

"Recently I received a shipment of cigars," he continued, "but they proved a sad disappointment. In fact, they seemed to me to be entirely worthless. I puffed at one after another, but they simply could not be smoked. In despair I finally consulted a well known tobacconist. The situation was no problem to him. He promptly told me to lay the cigars aside for a few weeks, after which I would find them all right. He was correct. When I sought an explanation the tobacconist assured me in all seriousness that the cigars had been seasick from the voyage across the Pacific and needed rest.

ntagious lood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—driven from the blood to the vitals. surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted early life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and reaches this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

SSS cures Contagious Blood Poison in any and all stages; contains no mineral to break down your constitution; it is purely vegetable and the only blood purifier known that cleanses the blood and at the same time builds up the general health.

Our little book on contagious blood poison is the most complete and instructive ever issued; it not only tells all about this disease, but also how to cure yourself at home. It is free and should be in the hands of everyone seeking a cure. Send for it.

HE CHARGES ALL TO CASTRO

DEPOSED PRESIDENT OF VENEZUELA TALKS.

Declares the Trouble With Colombia Was Brought About by the Usurping Executive.

Colon, Colombia, Jan. 6.—(Via Galveston.)—General Andrade, the former president of Venezuela, who arrived here from Curacoa yesterday, said today in the course of an interview on board a train bound for Panama:

"It is not Venezuela, but Castro, who is the enemy of Colombia. The Venezuelans have absolutely no desire for war with Colombia. Venezuela and Colombia during the past seventy years have always regarded each other as sister republics, bound by the closest and most friendly ties, and they are now for the first time enemies, thanks to Castro's machinations."

Referring to the internal troubles of Venezuela, General Andrade said he was satisfied that the whole country was in revolt against Castro, whose government was likely to fall at any time.

General Matos, who, Andrade said, was an immensely rich, honorable man, a perfect gentleman, much esteemed and well supported in many quarters, would possibly be a candidate for the presidency once Castro was overthrown. Andrade added that he himself was unwilling to seek re-election.

When questioned on the subject of the Venezuelan revolutionary steamer (Ban Righ) Andrade said he was confident the expedition would succeed in effecting a landing on some eastern point of the Venezuelan coast.

REBEL STEAMER SIGHTED.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Jan. 6.—(Via Haytien cable.)—Shortly before midnight last night a steamer, believed to be the Venezuelan revolutionary steamer Libertador, passed several times before this port, signalling to people ashore. Answering signals appeared to have been received from the shore, and it is asserted that the last members of the revolutionary expeditions, who had assembled on the island, embarked on board the Libertador and should have been landed early this morning on the Venezuelan coast, near Vela de Coro.

SUCCESSOR TO MACLAY.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Long has appointed John A. Kearney, of Cohoes, N. Y., as the successor to E. S. Maclay, the historian-laborer at the New York navy yard, who was removed by order of the president for his strictures upon Rear Admiral Schley. The office is officially designated "special laborer in the department of supplies and accounts, navy yard, New York," with pay at the rate of $2.48 per diem. The appointment reads "vice E. S. Maclay," and omits all reference to the manner of that individual's departure from the service.

WILL GIVE A CONCERT.

The Eintracht Singing society, comprising some of the best singers in the Lutheran churches in Fort Wayne, is arranging to give a concert some time in the near future. The Eintracht concerts have always been of a high order of merit and have never failed to draw large crowds. A fine program is being arranged, and a rehearsal will be held this evening.

ELECTION AND CONCERT.

The Luther society of St. John's Lutheran church, on Washington boulevard, will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, when officers for the coming year will be elected. The business meeting will be followed by an interesting program of ten numbers. The feature of the evening will be a musical dialogue composed by George Braun and Fred Schmidt, in which many of the members of the society will participate.

HAS CIRCLED THE EARTH.

Winton Bennett has returned home after an absence of nearly four years, most of which was spent in the army in the Philippines. Mr. Bennett's regiment was among the first in the islands, going by transport by way of the Suez canal, and touching at a number of the principal seaports en route. Mr. Bennett has been in China and Japan, and spent a few weeks touring in the west. He has made a complete circuit of the earth, and is delighted with his trip. Mr. Bennett expects to reside in this city.

LOVE LETTERS LOVED.

The taste for the publication of love letters is a widespread one in the present day, and it suffices for a rumor to get abroad that George Sand's correspondence with her two most famous lovers, Alfred de Musset and Chopin, were to be published to cause a considerable tremor of pleasurable anticipation in the world of the circulating libraries. It appears, however, that the rumor is partly premature and partly false. George Sand herself confided her correspondence with Alfred de Musset to M. Emile Aucante to be published "at an opportune moment," which apparently has not yet arrived; her letters to Chopin, which were returned to her by Alexander Dumas, fils, like a wise woman she committed to the flames.

The letters which Madame Maurice Sand collected shortly before her recent death and which are about to be given to the world, contain, it is true, some of Musset's, but these are not in the least love letters, and in company with the letters of George Sand's other famous correspondents, such as Victor Hugo, Flaubert, Barbes and Sainte-Beuve, they will form a most interesting commentary on the ideas and events of part of the nineteenth century, such as Voltaire's correspondence gives of the eighteenth.—London Tatler.

ONLY ONE SYSTEM.

Apropos of Lord Rosslyn's article in last week's issue on his infallible system for breaking the bank of Monte Carlo, a correspondent who has visited the tables every year for nearly a quarter of a century tells me that the only successful system is luck.

Wells won £30,000 by what he called a new system of his own. But those who watched his play carefully could see no traces of any system; he merely played boldly and for a time had luck. In the same way one of the Joels on a certain occasion won £15,000, but his win showed clearly how absurd it is to rely on probabilities, for the red won no fewer than a dozen consecutive times, a run which it is most unlikely that any system could have calculated for.—London Tatler.

HUNTING UPON AUTOMOBILES.

Dissatisfaction has been expressed by many members of the Warwickshire Hunt at the practice recently introduced by a number of the followers of the hounds of attending the meets on motor cars, having first sent on their horses. Hon. Greville Verney, master of the hunt, and Lord North, on behalf of the committee, have now issued a notice asking ladies and gentlemen to refrain from using such cars for any purpose connected with fox hunting in the Warwickshire country.—London Mail.

Dr. Mahaffy, of Trinity college, Dublin, believes that about 800 languages are spoken throughout the world.

TOTAL COST WAS $266,567.59

STREET, ALLEY AND SEWER IMPROVEMENT IN 1901.

Some Figures from the Engineering Department—Other Notes About the City Hall.

City Engineer Randall in his forthcoming report will show that a total of $266,567.59 was expended for improvements under the supervision of the engineering department during 1901.

Two and one-fourth miles of new street paving was laid, of which three and three-quarter miles was asphalt and one-half mile was brick, at a total cost of $91,193.64. The alleys were paved at a cost of $1,665.39. One and one-half miles of brick sidewalk was built at a cost of $3,988.07. Four and three-fourth miles of sewers, including the intercepter, were constructed at a cost of $169,544.32. Fort Wane now has thirty and one-quarter miles of paved streets and sixty-two and one-half miles of sewers.

DEATH RATE LOWER.

Fort Wayne's death rate for 1901 was somewhat lower than for the preceding year, showing 864 for 1901 as against 886 for 1900. Health Commissioner Macbeth says that but seven houses in the city are now under quarantine, three on account of diphtheria and four on account of scarlet fever. In nearly all of these cases the time has almost expired.

A TRACTION CONFERENCE.

A meeting of the special committee of the council, board of works, the mayor, city attorney and city engineer was held at the city hall Saturday evening to discuss traction franchise matters. There met with the committee N. D. Doughman, representing the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban railway; R. B. Hanna, representing the interests behind the proposed competing city line, and D. J. Cable, representing the Lima and Fort Wayne line.

Two hours was spent in a general discussion covering a considerable range and several documents relating to street railway franchises were examined. R. B. Hanna discussed the Robison-Hanna, et al., proposition asking for a city franchise and guaranteeing a four-cent fare. His company, he said, had nothing new to offer until a response was received from their first proposition, but was ready to put up a $20,000 guarantee for the construction of the system.

This brought some discussion, Mr. Hosey, of the council, and Mayor Berghoff expressing doubt that the line could be made to pay. He said he wanted extensions and did not care much who made them, but he thought one system in Fort Wayne better than two, if what was wanted could be secured from the one already occupying the field. There was some insistence by Councilmen Bauer and Miller, as well as by Mr. Hanna, that the board fix a time when the proposed franchise should be granted.

Mr. Doughman said he had nothing new present on behalf of the Southwestern, as Manager Nelson had been absent from the city and he had not had time to prepare his proposition, which he said he preferred to do in writing. Next Friday night was fixed as the time when the proposition would be received by the committee. The contract made by Mr. Cable with the Fort Wayne Traction company for entrance of the Lima and Fort Wayne line over the traction company's lines was read and discussed, but nothing new elicited.

BLAMES THE WALLA WALLA

BARK THAT SUNK HER NOW IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Officers of the French Vessel Say the Walla Walla's Watch Was in Drunken Condition.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The French bark Marx, Captain Benoist, which was in collision with and sank the steamer Walla Walla, causing the loss of about forty lives and which was towed to this port last night, was badly damaged in the accident. Her jib boom, made of hollow steel, was broken and twisted and the tip of it trailed in the water on the port side of the vessel and at about right angle with the line of the hull. Her stem was twisted and great holes had been torn in her bow. There was one almost at the water line and another a few feet above. Only her water-tight compartments kept her from sinking.

The French vessel left Glasgow 120 days ago, bound for this port. She was in ballast and consigned to Frederick Henry. Her captain had little to say regarding the disaster, except that his vessl was closely following the rules of the road when the steamer came under the bows of his bark. He declared that the lights of the Marx were properly burning and displayed and that the men of his crew saw the steamer for a long time before the collision. He said:

"We could think of no reason why the men on the steamer did not see us and as the vessels approached we became anxious. Then it was too late. The steamer had tried to cross our bows, but had failed. Just before the crash came the steamer swung slightly to port, as though an effort was being made to pass to our stern, but the change in her course had been made too late. The bark struck the steamer almost amidships on the port side. For a moment they hung together and then drifted apart. Our vessel was so badly damaged we thought she would sink, and under the circumstances we had all we could do to take care of ourselves. By daylight we had beaten well out toward the sea and were safe from the breakers, but our vessel was to a great measure unmanageable.

"On Saturday morning we accepted a tow from the steam schooner Acme, which later was aided by the cutter McCulloch."

The captain added that he thought the lookout on the Walla Walla was intoxicated, but this charge is emphatically denied by Captain Hall, of that vessel, who says there were three men on watch at the time. Second Officer Le Chavalier, of the Marx, told substantially the same story as the captain.

"I thought I would try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and see if they would make me feel better, never really thinking I had dyspepsia, but after only three or four tablets had been taken all the acid trouble disappeared and then I discovered I had bad acid dyspepsia, while the doctors had been treating me for kidney and bladder trouble and one of them treated me for rheumatism.

AN AGED METHODIST IS DEAD

REV. NELSON GILLIAM PASSES AWAY AT RICHMOND.

He Had Filled Many Indiana Pulpits and Was Widely Known—General News of the State.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 6.—Rev. Nelson Gillam, one of the pioneers of Indiana Methodism, died yesterday at the age of 87 years. He became a member of the Northern Indiana Conference in 1851 and was active until 1883.

Mr. Gilliam was one of the oldest citizens of the state, a superannuated minister of the Methodist Episcopal church in the Northin Indiana Conference, there being but but one living minister longer in the service. In 1851 he was partor of the church at Westfield, and his record after that was as follows: Carmel, in 1853-4; Pendleton, 1855-6; Noblesville, 1857-8; Winchester, 1859-60; Goshen, 1861-2; Marion, 1863; Noblesville, 1864-5; Knightstown, 1866-7; New Castle, 1868; Anderson, 1869-71; Logansport, 1872-4; Richmond, 1875; Noblesville, 1876-5; Bluffton, 1879; Knightstown, 1880-2; Hartford City, 1883 to 1890. He was then superannuated and moved to Richmond. The deceased was born in Carroll county, Indiana, Dec. 11, 1814, and had always resided in the state.

Dr. Kemper was at his bedside when death came and reports the last words of the delirious mind as being: "I am an old man, reaching my eighty-eighth year. I am tired and need rest—yes, permanent rest. I see Zion surrounded by hills—or is it walls?"

The funeral was held here this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence, and on Tuesday the remains will be taken to Muncie for burial in Beech Grove cemetery.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS BUSY.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 6.—Prominent members of the Knights of Columbus from Lafayette, Richmond, Muncie, Anderson, Indianapolis and Fort Wayne gathered here yesterday to assist in the work of instituting a lodge of the order. P. J. Brady, of Cleveland, O., had charge of the ceremonies and seventy-five of Marion's best citizens took the degree. A pleasing feature of the affair was a banquet in the evening. W. J. Mooney, of Indianapolis, responded to the toast "Our Order." The new organization is to be known as Marion council, No. 623.

OVERMYER'S LIFE IS SAVED.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 6.—Henry Overmyer's residence at Yorktown was destroyed by fire yesterday. The whole town was threatened. Overmyer, who is aged and an invalid, seems to bear a charmed life. He was carried from the burning house by his sons. A year ago Overmyer in a fit of despondency fired a bullet into each ear and into his brain, but lived.

MAY REVIVE U. B. COLLEGE.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 6.—There is now little doubt that the United Brethren church of Indiana will take hold of the defunct Eastern Normal university in this city and revive it as a sectarian school. A pamphlet has been issued by the state executive committee of the church urging all conferences and all churches to aid the plan. The church has until next September to revive the institution. There is no school now being held in the university buildings. Former President F. A. Z. Kumler has agreed to yield possession without a law suit, after having been assured that the United Brethren would have a chance to get possession of the buildings.

CURIOUS DIVORCE COMPLAINT.

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 6.—Which day to observe as Sunday, and the kind of food to be eaten, has led to a separation and a divorce suit in this county. One year ago Arthur Wilson, son of ex-County Commissioner John W. Wilson, married Miss Gertrude Edwards, daughter of an elder in the Seventh Day Adventist church. The young wife asserted her right to observe Sunday as the Lord's day, and in refusing to cook pork, she alienated her husband, who is now the defendant in divorce proceedings. He wanted to eat pork and observe the old-fashioned Sunday. Both families are well-to-do people, standing high socially.

A MANUFACTURER FAILS.

Peru, Ind., Jan. 6.—Joshua Turner, doing business under the name of the Turner Manufacturing company, manufacturers of woolen goods, and employing eighty people, has made an assignment, naming H. H. Hammond, of Cleveland, Ohio, as trustee for creditors. The assets are $3,000, while the liabilities are between $8,000 and $12,000. The mill was opened last May and a popular subscription of $5,000 was given the company. The machinery purchased with these subscriptions reverts back to the subscribers. An attempt will be made to reopen the mill.

FOUND DEAD IN A HOVEL.

Mishawaka, Ind., Jan. 6.—Wilbert Sherwin was found dead Saturday night in an old hovel in the southern part of this city. How long he had been lying there Coroner Rennoe is unable to determine. Indications are, however, that Sherwin had been dead for two days or more, as rats had attacked the body, eating the flesh from the fingers, nose and face. Neighbors declare that Sherwin had neither food nor fuel, and the absence of either of these necessaries may have caused his death. The coroner has not yet given his opinion concerning the cause of his death, and this surrounds the case with an air of mystery. Sherwin was unmarried. Sherwin's brother has been drinking heavily for some days, it is alleged, using money which the dead man received from the sale of a team of old horses. Sherwin leaves a sister, Mary Coonan, of Chicago.

WILL NOT LEAVE LOGANSPORT

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 6.—Of all the stubborn propositions that Logansport's councilmen have ever been up against, there is one now with the Bell Telephone company that outclasses the rest. Some time ago a new home company was given a franchise and the Bell company was notified that on January 3, 1900, its rights expired. The eventful day arrived and found the Bell people still doing business at the old stand and announcing that they could be seen as usual at the old number for some time to come. The council is in doubt as to a mode of proceedure, but it is believed that a game of "freeze out" is about the thing. They can stop the Bell from making any extensions or changes and when a telephone is taken out, which nearly all will be, a new one can not be put in. The game will end when the Bell gets tired and moves.

COL. A. D. OWEN STRICKEN.

North Vernon, Ind., Jan. 6.—The condition of Col. Alfred Dale Owen, the late democratic candidate for congress, has not improved. The attending physician says he may live for several months, but does not hold out any hope for his ultimate recovery. He is a victim of erysipelas, and the disease has not yet yielded to treatment.

NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. PROJECT.

New York, Jan. 6.—Details of plans for the largest building in the world devoted exclusively to Young Men's Christian association work have been announced by Henry M. Orne, general secretary. The building will be on West Twenty-third street and through to and on West Twenty-fourth street. The cost entire, it is estimated, will be $675,000. It will be a Young Men's Christian association hotel in effect, containing five floors of sleeping rooms, a large restaurant and the customary rooms and general conveniences of a hotel. The auditorium will seat 600 persons. There will also be class rooms, a library, swimming pool, baths and a gymnasium.

HIGHEST RENTS ON EARTH.

The district around Cornhill is now the most highly-rented spot on earth. Not long since one room near the Royal Exchange let for between £2,000 and £,000 a year. Within this past few weeks a house agent advertised certain properties in Throgmorton street to let. For seven telephone boxes on the ground floor £250 a year of rent was asked for each. For a suite of taree rooms on the mezzanine floor £1,000 a year was asked. Six rooms on the first floor were offered at £2,000 a year.

For shops Bond street is the dearest thoroughfare in the world. Broadway in New York comes next, and a limited radius near the Place de l'Opera in Paris ranks third. A small shop in Bond street brings readily from £750 to £1,300 a year. This includes the shop and basement, but not, of course, the remainder of the house. The shops in Regent street rent even more, but then they are larger, thus making the rent per square foot work out less.—London Mail.

A NOVEL WRECKING METHOD.

A novel wrecking method was used last month on a big steel barge that went ashore east of Marquette, Lake Superior. The barge, the Smeaton, was one of the largest on the lakes, capable of carrying 3,000 tons, and was built exceptionally strong. Like all modern lage ships, she had a double bottom, the inner skin five feet above the outer and the space between the two divided into innumerable water-tight compartments. Such was the treatment of this great ship by the storm on Lake Superior by which she was wrecked that almost every one of the compartments was pierced by the rocks of the reef at Au Train and the outer shell of the ship now resembles nothing so much as the top of a pepper box. Though the Smeaton was without cargo at the time of the storm, there were 4,000 tons of water ballast in the compartments. In spite of this great weight the seas carried the vessel 1,500 feet up the beach, bumping her at every wave, and left her in seven feet of water behind a protecting bar of rocks. The contract for the salvage was let to Capt. James Reid, of Sarnia, Ont., who discarded all previous methods in use on the lakes and undertook to release the ship by pumping the spaces between the inner and outer skins full of air, which would, he figured, drive out the water. It was impossible to pump out the water directly and so this method was adopted. In three days the compressed air used had driven out the water, the ship was floated safely over the bar of rocks behind which she lay, and was taken to Duluth for repairs.—New York Evening Post.

This is to certify that I, F. M. Cottrell, hereby make the following statement for the benefit of the suffering public, that my wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for ten years. To tell all her suffering would fill a book, at last suffering from that insidious disease, abscess of the lungs. She would raise mouthfuls of dark greenish matter, had severe pains and soreness of chest and lungs, coughed continually, insomuch that all the neighbors thought she could not get well. Dr. Zimmermann cured her sound and well in two months of above troubles. I recommend Dr. Zimmermann's special treatment as being all he claims for it, and think he saved my wife from the grave.

PALESTINE FOR HEBREWS

MASS MEETING OF ZIONISTS HELD IN CHICAGO.

Much Impetus Given the Movement - Dr. Emil G. Hirsch Says the Jews are Too Weak.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Impetus to the movement to establish the Jewish race once more in Palestine was given last night at a mass meeting of Zionists, at the Medinah Temple theater. Two thousand Hebrews, for the most part supporters of the plan to open again the promised land for the chosen people, crowded the hall. The meeting was in connection with the annual convention of western Zionists, whose organization embraces ten states. The plan, determined on at the Basle, Switzerland, conference, was outlined by Leon Zolotkoff, grand master of the Knights of Zion, who said that the idea was to create a legally assured home for the Jews, and a refuge for Jews who cannot be assimilated by the people among whom they now live. "We do not mean to take the Jews by the neck and throw them into Palestine," he said, "neither do we intend to transform the Jews over night into an agricultural people. We want to resume the broken thread of our nation; we want to show to the world the moral strength, the intellectual power of the Jewish people. We want a place where the race can again be centralized."

Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch gave his views on the proposed movement. In view of the fact that the Zionists consider Dr. Hirsch's attitude on the question hostile to their plans, great interest was manifested in his remarks. He said: "I agree with you that the condition of 7,000,000 in Russia, Roumania and Galicia is a blot on civilization, and cries out to heaven for redress. The world is stirred by accounts of the suffering of the women in the concentration camps in South Africa. No doubt their condition is bitter, but the condition of the Jews in Russia is worse. Yet, while voices are raised in protest against her treatment of the South African women, no voice is raised in behalf of the Jew. Why? Because they are Jews. What matters it that they suffer? They are Jews. Behind them stand no guns nor armored ships. They are Jews. They have suffered eighteen centuries; let them suffer more. That is the condition which calls out to heaven for justice, and not for charity.

"I also agree with you that if these Jews say that they have no country, they are justified. What flag is theirs? They must pay blood taxes to the czar, yet thy are not treated as subjects. In Roumania they are declared to be aliens. The fault lies with the governments of Russia, Roumania and Galicia. It is for these Jews that the name of their country spells 'Hope.' I should not be a man if I did not realize that for these persecuted Jews Jerusalem spells reason, justice and liberty.

"Shall we call them to America? I would gladly do so if their coming would be a solution of the problem. But it would not be. From the prey of Russia to the sweatshops of America does not spell redemption. If your plan will offer a solution, take him to Palestine and I will be with you, and we will all work together.

"I further agree to the proposition that in case the majority of the population in Palestine is Jewish, they shall have the right to determine their own form of government. I agree further that a government established by them would be in accordance with the principles of Judaism, and it would give a model state. All you have to do to convince us that your scheme is practicable is to proceed from agitation to action, by colonizing in Palestine.

"I have a nation. I will not exchange it for a nation in Jerusalem. I have my flag, and I will not exchange it. I have a legally assured home, for after all, what we suffer here is inconsequential. Let the Jew learn to strike back when he is struck, and they will learn to leave him alone. His condition would be bettered if he would keep the rest in wholesome fear of a Jewish fist and a Jewish kick."

At the business session the convention re-elected Leon Zolotkoff, of Chicago, grand master, and I. Wolpe, of Chicago, treasurer. It was voted to hold the next convention in Milwaukee.

HYGIENE

It is perhaps one of the signs of the times to those alert for indications that the art of breathing has become more and more a subject of attention, says the New York Journal. Oculists as well as physiologists go deeply into its study in a way hardly to be touched upon in a limited space. Physicians have cured aggravated cases of insomnia by long drawn, regular breathe, fever stricken patients have been quieted, stubborn forms of indigestion made to disappear.

A tendency to consumption may be overcome, as some authority has within the past few years clearly demonstrated, by exercise in breathing. Seasickness, too, may be surmounted and the victim of hypnotic influence taught to withstand the force of an energy directed against him.

There is a famous physician of Munich who has written an extensive work upon the subject of breathing. He has, besides, formulated a system by which asthmatic patients are made to walk without losing breath, while sufferers from weaknesses of the heart are cured. At Meran, in the Austrian Tyrol, his patients are put through a certain system of breathing and walking. The mountain paths are all marked off with stakes of different colors, indicating the number of minutes in which a patient must walk the given distance, the breathing and walking being in time together. As the cure progresses the ascents are made steeper and steeper.

Learn How to Exercise.

Exercise, we are now taught, should be adjusted to temperament. From his Yale studies Mr. W. W. Davis concludes that the phlegmatic type of temperament is characterized by the presence of much reserve energy of muscle and nerve cell, while the nervous type has less reserve energy, but a greater ability to use the energy at hand; hence the nervous persons require light practice for developing strength and the phlegmatic vigorous practice.

Private Roof Gardens.

A writer in The Hospital calls attention to the desirability in the interest of the health of city bred children of providing some place of exercise where they can get air and sunlight free from the objections that are connected with the streets and suggests for the purpose roof gardens on private houses. He says, "Infinitely better would it be for a child to play about in its roof conservatory, as it could do for hours every day, than to take its perfunctory walk or be wheeled through the city streets at a level of only about thirty inches from the ground," and then, that his idea "is not merely to build a playroom on the roof, but to make this glass covered room itself form the roof of the building, much as a weaving shed is made to form the roof of a mill in the textile factories in the north of England."

A Substitute For Leather.

It is reported from Coburg by Consul General Hughes that a Frenchman has invented a process by which refuse skins and hides are converted into an artificial leather called "fibroleum." He takes the waste scraps from all sources and cuts them into very small pieces. These are put into a vat containing an intensely alkaline solution. After the mass has become pulpy it is taken out and passed through a specially constructed machine.

A Smokeless Flashlight.

A French scientific investigator believes he has discovered a flashlight powder compound which is practically smokeless. The principle is to keep the magnesia that is formed when magnesium powder is exploded as much as possible attached to a heavy substance that will not easily fly about and which soon falls of its own weight. A substance suitable for this purpose is found in the binoxide of barium.

Substitute For Oil Paint.

Cerusine is a new product of M. Lepine intended as a substitute of oil paint. It is a mixture of animal glue and white lead, with the addition of a varying proportion of borax and a small quantity of potash or nitric acid. The usual pigments are added for the various colors.

Chimes Rung by Air.

The chimes of St. Patrick's cathedral, New York city, are now rung by compressed air, the bells being actuated through the medium of electrical devices.

RAILROADING

A new method of heating cars has been adopted in Christiania and Stockholm. The apparatus consists of long perforated boxes, one under each length of seats. The boxes are filled with red-hot briquettes of compressed coal prepared so that no smoke or smell results from their consumption. Iron sheeting is arranged under the seats, which allows the fumes to escape to the open air.

On fresh air passing through a ventilator placed under the conbox at the bottom of the car the hot, combustible gases pass through this iron sheeting throughout its entire length, diffusing a steady heat into the car through a set of perforated iron plates placed between the legs of the seats. The speed of the car develops sufficient draft to completely consume the briquettes.

It is asserted the system has been found entirely satisfactory, even on the score of economy.

NEW WINDOW SASH.

Should Prove a Boon For the Order Loving Housewife.

The windows with which most of us are familiar have often enough been condemned for the reason that the cleaning of the outer surface of the glass is attended with not a little danger. A recently patented invention which has been acquired by Mr. Arthur Hoyt Bogue of New York seeks to overcome this difficulty in a manner which is both ingenious and simple, says The Scientific American.

The sashes in Mr. Bogue's window run in vertical grooves in the window casing and are provided with the usual pulleys and weights. Each groove of the lower sash, however, has a curved branch groove leading to the groove of the upper sash. Horizontal grooves bisect the two vertical grooves, and by these horizontal grooves pins projecting from the lower sash are guided.

By reason of this arrangement of grooves the lower sash can be moved in the branch groove directly in alignment with the upper sash, thereby closing the window far more tightly than is possible with the ordinary sashes. But if the lower sash be moved down to the end of its vertical groove a horizontal space is left between the upper and lower sashes for ventilating purposes. If this space be not large enough, the sashes can be raised and lowered in the usual manner.

In the lower end of each groove of the upper sash a pin is located, which is received in the curved recess of a plate carried on the lower end of the lower sash. Thus the lower sash, when depressed, is pivotally mounted, so that it can be swung inwardly in the manner shown in our engraving through an arc of ninety degrees. When the sash is thus swung inwardly, the window can be safely cleaned.

Cure Insomnia by Machinery.

An odd device designed to cure insomnia is called the "fatemator." It consists of a helmet, which is fastened about the head by two straps buckling in the back. Across the forehead rests a band of flat steel, from the center of which projects a steel tube, into the end of which is inserted a flexible steel wire tipped with a glistening nickel plated ball about the size of a grape. By bending the wire the ball may be adjusted at any angle desired and extremely close to the eyes. With this apparatus in place the patient lies down and fixes his gaze on the ball. This fixed gaze fatigues the eyelids, and in a few minutes a sound sleep is produced.

Latest Scheme For Fire Fighting.

The head of the fire department of Rouen has suggested to the mayor a novel project in the fire extinguishing service. Inasmuch as this city is traversed everywhere by electric street car wires, it is suggested there should be provided pumps, driven by dynamos, to take currents by means of a trolley hooked to the street car wires at the nearest point to the fire. If this is favorably acted upon, as seems likely, Rouen will be equal, if not superior, to any European city in the efficiency of its fire service.

Novel Use For Wine.

Viticulturists in France have just tried experiments in feeding draft animals with bran mixed with wine, which seem to be successful. It appears that poor wine can be used to replace oats as food, weight for weight—a pound of wine for a pound of oats. At least half of the usual feed of grain can be replaced in this manner without disadvantage to the animals. Barley, beans, bran and the like, mixed with wine, can be substituted for oats entirely if desired, it is said.

Perpetual Youth.

Professor Gautier, a distinguished member of the Institut de France, has advanced a startling theory on the subject of "perpetual youth." In isolating the bacteria of physical fatigue he has found that it is a poison strongly resembling ptomaine poison in nature. From this Professor Gautier concludes that fatigue can, by the use of disinfectants, be avoided like any other poison, and consequently man, no longer suffering from wear and tear, need not weaken or age.

Cooling Water Without Ice.

An inventor, Joseph E. Swenderman of Boston, has patented an apparatus for cooling water, the idea of which he appears to have borrowed from the Mexican practice of putting water in a bottle attached to a line and swinging it around the head rapidly to reduce its temperature. Swenderman's device is a mechanical application of the same principle to a continuously flowing stream of water.

ENGLAND'S CONSCIENCE FUND.

The chancellor of the exchequer has acknowledged the receipt of £500 in notes as conscience money. Is the instinct to get the better of the tax collector stronger than of old, or is the conscience more tender? This source of income now amounts to some thousands per annum; a little over a hundred years ago it was unknown. The first sum noticed was on March 30, 1879, when £360 was carried to the public account in consequence of a note received by the chancellor. The writer with troubled soul implored him, "as an honest man, to consider the money the property of the nation, and to be so just as to apply it to the use of the state in such manner that the nation may not suffer by its having been detained, and thus to ease the conscience of an honest man." The chancellor of today gets more money, but probably fewer such quaint, earnest letters.—London Chronicle.

Contagious Blood Poison

There is no poison so highly contagious, so deceptive and so destructive. Don't be too sure you are cured because all external signs of the disease have disappeared, and the doctor says you are well. Many persons have been dosed with Mercury and Potash for months or years, and pronounced cured—to realize when too late that the disease was only covered up—driven from the surface to break out again, and to their sorrow and mortification find those nearest and dearest to them have been infected by this loathsome disease, for no other poison is so surely transmitted from parent to child as this. Often a bad case of Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula or severe skin disease, an old sore or ulcer developing in middle life, can be traced to blood poison contracted in early life, for it remains smoldering in the system forever, unless properly treated and driven out in the beginning. S. S. S. is the only antidote for this peculiar virus, the only remedy known that can overcome it and drive it out of the blood, and it does this so thoroughly and effectually that there is never a return of the disease to embarrass or humiliate you afterwards.

DEPOSED PRESIDENT OF VENEZUELA TALKS.

Declares the Trouble With Colombia Was Brought About by the Usurping Executive.

Colon, Colombia, Jan. 6.—(Via Galveston.)—General Andrade, the former president of Venezuela, who arrived here from Curacoa yesterday, said today in the course of an interview on board a train bound for Panama:

"It is not Venezuela, but Castro, who is the enemy of Colombia. The Venezuelans have absolutely no desire for war with Colombia. Venezuela and Colombia during the past seventy years have always regarded each other as sister republics, bound by the closest and most friendly ties, and they are now for the first time enemies, thanks to Castro's machinations."

Referring to the internal troubles of Venezuela, General Andrade said he was satisfied that the whole country was in revolt against Castro, whose government was likely to fall at any time.

General Matos, who, Andrade said, was an immensely rich, honorable man, a perfect gentleman, much esteemed and well supported in many quarters, would possibly be a candidate for the presidency once Castro was overthrown. Andrade added that he himself was unwilling to seek re-election.

When questioned on the subject of the Venezuelan revolutionary steamer (Ban Righ) Andrade said he was confident the expedition would succeed in effecting a landing on some eastern point of the Venezuelan coast.

REBEL STEAMER SIGHTED.

Willemstad, Island of Curacoa, Jan. 6.—(Via Haytien cable.)—Shortly before midnight last night a steamer, believed to be the Venezuelan revolutionary steamer Libertador, passed several times before this port, signalling to people ashore. Answering signals appeared to have been received from the shore, and it is asserted that the last members of the revolutionary expeditions, who had assembled on the island, embarked on board the Libertador and should have been landed early this morning on the Venezuelan coast, near Vela de Coro.

SUCCESSOR TO MACLAY.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Secretary Long has appointed John A. Kearney, of Cohoes, N. Y., as the successor to E. S. Maclay, the historian-laborer at the New York navy yard, who was removed by order of the president for his strictures upon Rear Admiral Schley. The office is officially designated "special laborer in the department of supplies and accounts, navy yard, New York," with pay at the rate of $2.48 per diem. The appointment reads "vice E. S. Maclay," and omits all reference to the manner of that individual's departure from the service.

WILL GIVE A CONCERT.

The Eintracht Singing society, comprising some of the best singers in the Lutheran churches in Fort Wayne, is arranging to give a concert some time in the near future. The Eintracht concerts have always been of a high order of merit and have never failed to draw large crowds. A fine program is being arranged, and a rehearsal will be held this evening.

ELECTION AND CONCERT.

The Luther society of St. John's Lutheran church, on Washington boulevard, will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, when officers for the coming year will be elected. The business meeting will be followed by an interesting program of ten numbers. The feature of the evening will be a musical dialogue composed by George Braun and Fred Schmidt, in which many of the members of the society will participate.

HAS CIRCLED THE EARTH.

Winton Bennett has returned home after an absence of nearly four years, most of which was spent in the army in the Philippines. Mr. Bennett's regiment was among the first in the islands, going by transport by way of the Suez canal, and touching at a number of the principal seaports en route. Mr. Bennett has been in China and Japan, and spent a few weeks touring in the west. He has made a complete circuit of the earth, and is delighted with his trip. Mr. Bennett expects to reside in this city.

LOVE LETTERS LOVED.

The taste for the publication of love letters is a widespread one in the present day, and it suffices for a rumor to get abroad that George Sand's correspondence with her two most famous lovers, Alfred de Musset and Chopin, were to be published to cause a considerable tremor of pleasurable anticipation in the world of the circulating libraries. It appears, however, that the rumor is partly premature and partly false. George Sand herself confided her correspondence with Alfred de Musset to M. Emile Aucante to be published "at an opportune moment," which apparently has not yet arrived; her letters to Chopin, which were returned to her by Alexander Dumas, fils, like a wise woman she committed to the flames.

The letters which Madame Maurice Sand collected shortly before her recent death and which are about to be given to the world, contain, it is true, some of Musset's, but these are not in the least love letters, and in company with the letters of George Sand's other famous correspondents, such as Victor Hugo, Flaubert, Barbes and Sainte-Beuve, they will form a most interesting commentary on the ideas and events of part of the nineteenth century, such as Voltaire's correspondence gives of the eighteenth.—London Tatler.

ONLY ONE SYSTEM.

Apropos of Lord Rosslyn's article in last week's issue on his infallible system for breaking the bank of Monte Carlo, a correspondent who has visited the tables every year for nearly a quarter of a century tells me that the only successful system is luck.

Wells won £30,000 by what he called a new system of his own. But those who watched his play carefully could see no traces of any system; he merely played boldly and for a time had luck. In the same way one of the Joels on a certain occasion won £15,000, but his win showed clearly how absurd it is to rely on probabilities, for the red won no fewer than a dozen consecutive times, a run which it is most unlikely that any system could have calculated for.—London Tatler.

HUNTING UPON AUTOMOBILES.

Dissatisfaction has been expressed by many members of the Warwickshire Hunt at the practice recently introduced by a number of the followers of the hounds of attending the meets on motor cars, having first sent on their horses. Hon. Greville Verney, master of the hunt, and Lord North, on behalf of the committee, have now issued a notice asking ladies and gentlemen to refrain from using such cars for any purpose connected with fox hunting in the Warwickshire country.—London Mail.

STREET, ALLEY AND SEWER IMPROVEMENT IN 1901.

Some Figures from the Engineering Department—Other Notes About the City Hall.

City Engineer Randall in his forthcoming report will show that a total of $266,567.59 was expended for improvements under the supervision of the engineering department during 1901.

Two and one-fourth miles of new street paving was laid, of which three and three-quarter miles was asphalt and one-half mile was brick, at a total cost of $91,193.64. The alleys were paved at a cost of $1,665.39. One and one-half miles of brick sidewalk was built at a cost of $3,988.07. Four and three-fourth miles of sewers, including the interceptor, were constructed at a cost of $169,544.32. Fort Wayne now has thirty and one-quarter miles of paved streets and sixty-two and one-half miles of sewers.

DEATH RATE LOWER.

Fort Wayne's death rate for 1901 was somewhat lower than for the preceding year, showing 804 for 1901 as against 886 for 1900. Health Commissioner Macbeth says that but seven houses in the city are now under quarantine, three on account of diphtheria and four on account of scarlet fever. In nearly all of these cases the time has almost expired.

A TRACTION CONFERENCE.

A meeting of the special committee of the council, board of works, the mayor, city attorney and city engineer was held at the city hall Saturday evening to discuss traction franchise matters. There met with the committee N. D. Doughman, representing the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban railway; R. B. Hanna, representing the interests behind the proposed competing city line, and D. J. Cable, representing the Lima and Fort Wayne line.

Two hours was spent in a general discussion covering a considerable range and several documents relating to street railway franchises were examined. R. B. Hanna discussed the Robison-Hanna, et al., proposition asking for a city franchise and guaranteeing a four-cent fare. His company, he said, had nothing new to offer until a response was received from their first proposition, but was ready to put up a $20,000 guarantee for the construction of the system.

This brought some discussion, Mr. Hosey, of the council, and Mayor Berghoff expressing doubt that the line could be made to pay. He said he wanted extensions and did not care much who made them, but he thought one system in Fort Wayne better than two, if what was wanted could be secured from the one already occupying the field. There was some insistence by Councilmen Bauer and Miller, as well as by Mr. Hanna, that the board fix a time when the proposed franchise should be granted.

Mr. Doughman said he had nothing new present on behalf of the Southwestern, as Manager Nelson had been absent from the city and he had not had time to prepare his proposition, which he said he preferred to do in writing. Next Friday night was fixed as the time when the proposition would be received by the committee. The contract made by Mr. Cable with the Fort Wayne Traction company for entrance of the Lima and Fort Wayne line over the traction company's lines was read and discussed, but nothing new elicited.

BARK THAT SUNK HER NOW IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Officers of the French Vessel Say the Walla Walla's Watch Was in Drunken Condition.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—The French bark Marx, Captain Benolst, which was in collision with and sank the steamer Walla Walla, causing the loss of about forty lives and which was towed to this port last night, was badly damaged in the accident. Her jib boom, made of hollow steel, was broken and twisted and the tip of it trailed in the water on the port side of the vessel and at about right angle with the line of the hull. Her stem was twisted and great holes had been torn in her bow. There was one almost at the water line and another a few feet above. Only her water-tight compartments kept her from sinking.

The French vessel left Glasgow 120 days ago, bound for this port. She was in ballast and consigned to Frederick Henry. Her captain had little to say regarding the disaster, except that his vessl was closely following the rules of the road when the steamer came under the bows of his bark. He declared that the lights of the Marx were properly burning and displayed and that the men of his crew saw the steamer for a long time before the collision. He said:

"We could think of no reason why the men on the steamer did not see us and as the vessels approached we became anxious. Then it was too late. The steamer had tried to cross our bows, but had failed. Just before the crash came the steamer swung slightly to port, as though an effort was being made to pass to our stern, but the change in her course had been made too late. The bark struck the steamer almost amidships on the port side. For a moment they hung together and then drifted apart. Our vessel was so badly damaged we thought she would sink, and under the circumstances we had all we could do to take care of ourselves. By daylight we had beaten well out toward the sea and were safe from the breakers, but our vessel was to a great measure unmanageable.

"On Saturday morning we accepted a tow from the steam schooner Acme, which later was aided by the cutter McCulloch."

The captain added that he thought the lookout on the Walla Walla was intoxicated, but this charge is emphatically denied by Captain Hall, of that vessel, who says there were three men on watch at the time. Second Officer Le Chavalier, of the Marx, told substantially the same story as the captain.

London spends over £1,000,000 annually on funerals.
